So a very large cloud of dust is currently over The Bahamas the gulf coast and Florida.
And my eyes have been watering and itching since this morning. Very strange times

That's really odd. Could you post a pic somewhere?

This doesn't sound possible but I guess it's happening. I don't plan on going outside but to everyone, be safe out there!

I saw it the past few days, with the sunset the sky looks weird, and during the day the sky looks foggy, not blue.

always some weird sht happening this year, and I think somethin' more extreme is coming.

KushBlowin - June 27, 2020, 6:13 pm

Well I mean it is 2020. One of these events will kill us off.

This is wild as hell, first thing I thought of was the movie interstellar. Hope everything's well out there OP, seems like it's all good listening to the clip someone posted above.

Yeah, this is the year where god is like.....yep this is the year humans die.

He's like trying to kill us like ants and is like wtf??? why they no die from corona... ok well we gotta start fires and start riots... send 5 asteroids to earth . Missed....lol fuck!!! nooooo!!! throw another 5 asteroids to eath...missed again. send murder bees....still no deaths... fuck!!! well lets keep sturing up race riots and causing heat waves like Antarctica is 104 F.

Like the year 2020 is the year that someone or something is really trying really really fucking hard to kill us all and is failing miserably... yes people died but we still have a lot alive.

I am sure next god be fuck this shit. He will send aliens out to kill us all in the fall just mark my words guys. ?

I saw it on the news the other day. Fascinating that something like this can happen but frightening for sure at the same time.
