Used his service twice so far, to write essays for my college English Literature class since I have too many things to do in life.

Communication went smoothly, and the pricing is fair.

Even when he provides the finished essay and I ask for several changes, he remains patient and gladly modified it while following any additional instructions I gave.

Overall, I highly recommend using his service. I'll definitely come back again if I need another paper done!

Been using Artisan for a few semesters with help with writing big assignments. I had him take extra precautions because some of the AI detectors that are used are extremely oversensitive (so much so that they even look into the history of docs and looks at how it written , how long it took to write, and the edit history, etc) Hes gotten near perfect scores pretty much everytime. Hes also very thorough when you ask him to use specific sources.

I also really hate writing personal stuff or about myself just in general and sometimes I have a big assignment regarding personal experiences that and I like how he handles it so well.

I've had him do topics regarding:

Meteorology

Business

Theories of instruction

Human Relations

Public Relations

Public Speaking (I had him write a few speeches and he nailed the length and topics and speaking styles)

Love this guy, fortunately/unfortunately I'm nearly done with school and he's helped me through a lot of it!

I contacted the seller for some work that was extremely time sensitive and tedious at the same time, and it was delivered with ease. I would highly recommend the seller based on price and quality and would love to do business again.

I am happy to be a part of this community still, very awesome people we still have here.

Contacted Artisan July 21st - less than a week ago. He added me back within the hour and we discussed a communications paper via Discord. His pricing was more than fair and he is willing to dive right in and accept a challenge. My paper required the use of a textbook and he did so without issue after providing him a PDF copy. Not only did he deliver prior to the due date, he was almost flawless. He is well spoken and his writing is excellent. I only modified indentations in paragraphs and did some formatting to the reference page. Other than that, outstanding. Paper is submitted and I am awaiting my grade.

FYI: he was more than willing and insisted on letting him do the edits/changes until I was satisfied. They were so minor I took care of it.

TLDR; 9.8/10. Writing is superb, communication is quick, and pricing is CHEAP!

There seems to be an impostor whos copying peoples usernames and pretending to be them on discord. My discord is verified with HF and I do not use any other mode of communication apart from pm/convo and discord and I also try to verify on site as much as possible. I also try to follow HF policies as much as possible and use contracts when dealing with members who approach me from HF (unless they are hell bent on not using contacts - ive asked Vitani and Eagle about this in the past).

TL:DR - Confirm on site when placing orders so no imposter ever gets to scam you. This applies to all sellers and buyers at HF.

Place your orders with me early to get the best quality work. Rushed orders tend to be of lower quality due to time constraints and I am usually booked so please hit me up a day or two before the submission deadline.

Artisan - October 6, 2021, 9:55 pm

All these homework service providers claim to be #1 on HF. Go to their profile and check their open disputes. Even one dispute is more than enough reason to completely avoid them. A dispute means that they scammed the client by not delivering what was ordered. Some even go as far as blackmailing the client. Also check their resolved disputes as that will give you an idea about what kinda shit they try to pull.

Be safe. Avoid people whose number of disputes is non-zero.

Contacted Artisan July 21st - less than a week ago. He added me back within the hour and we discussed a communications paper via Discord. His pricing was more than fair and he is willing to dive right in and accept a challenge. My paper required the use of a textbook and he did so without issue after providing him a PDF copy. Not only did he deliver prior to the due date, he was almost flawless. He is well spoken and his writing is excellent. I only modified indentations in paragraphs and did some formatting to the reference page. Other than that, outstanding. Paper is submitted and I am awaiting my grade.

FYI: he was more than willing and insisted on letting him do the edits/changes until I was satisfied. They were so minor I took care of it.

TLDR; 9.8/10. Writing is superb, communication is quick, and pricing is CHEAP!

EDIT: Final grade for this paper - 96/100.

Artisan - September 2, 2022, 3:45 am

Just finished delivering two 6 page reports for the same course. The client actually referred a friend taking the same course so now I have to do the same papers twice for them for the whole course. Delivered 3 days early too, so they can give me edit requests.

You can guess that my workload will be high this semester so please come to me early and place the order. Otherwise I will have my hands full.

Artisan - September 5, 2022, 9:36 pm

Working on a short paper. Promised to deliver this a day early. Apparently the writers here have been missing deadlines so the client was worried the same would happen with me. Had to correct that view of his.

I have not missed a deadline yet and I don't plan on starting it now. I deliver early so clients can get back to me with edit requests.

Artisan - September 22, 2022, 5:09 am

A returning client made a weekly order. So I will be slightly busy in the weekends till the mid of October.

Follow his suit by placing orders early so I don't have to say no because of workload.

Artisan - September 24, 2022, 1:54 pm

An offsite client placed a rushed order today. It had a 9 hour deadline. I do not like these for three reasons.

1. They cost more for the client
2. Gives me less time to go through the material and work on the paper
3. It affects the quality of the work

Please try to place your order with me a few days early so I can do my best work.

Artisan - September 29, 2022, 2:18 am

After I send over a paper, please give it a reading and let me know if any edits are required. This is precisely why I deliver early.

Artisan - October 4, 2022, 9:23 am

Many from HF are reaching out to me via discord. Im holding out on taking orders as I am having difficulty accessing HF and so I think its safer to not take orders from them till I can sort it out. Artisan - October 6, 2022, 5:52 am

Many out there claiming to be the number 1 provider. Give them an order for any subject and they'll take it. Ask yourself this question: How can one person be able to do papers/quizzes/exams for all subjects?

The answer is simple. They all outsource.

I won't claim to be the number one service provider here like everyone else here. None of us have attended a testing/ranking event where someone came out as a winner so all such claims are false. To top it off, most other providers outsource their work. Don't believe me? Ask yourself how they are taking orders for all subjects and courses.

Artisan - March 9, 2023, 6:08 am

Don't get depressed by academic stress. My schedule just opened up.
Hit me up immediately and let me complete your homework and assignments early!

Artisan - March 15, 2023, 9:18 pm

I do not offer any discounts on the condition that you leave me reviews. Even an average person should be able to tell that such tactics are marketing gimmicks and end up in false reviews from clients.

Artisan - March 19, 2023, 11:21 am

I am available to take orders but since I work solo, so my schedule can get packed pretty quickly. So, I suggest you contact me a few days in advance.

Artisan - March 27, 2023, 10:32 am

I have finished and delivered the majority of my orders a few days before the deadline and in some cases, even weeks. That was only possible because those clients ordered way ahead of deadlines. I deliver early so you can give me feedback and ask for edits if you think that's necessary.

Artisan - April 4, 2023, 7:11 pm

If you check my profile and thread, it will become clear that all of my clients have been pleased with my work. The quality and price were definitely factors that influenced this.

Artisan - April 26, 2023, 11:29 pm

Be wary of your service provider. Every one who offers a homework/assignment/writing service here has had multiple disputes opened on them. Most have open disputes at the moment. Those that don't resolved it by force or have legacy disputes (in the old system). This means that you will suffer on dealing with them.

I am the only writer here who has had zero problems with clients. You don't have to take my word for it. Just use the search feature on HF (for those that don't have open disputes) and visit their profiles and click on Open Disputes for those that have open disputes.

Thanks for your suggestion mate. Unfortunately I do not have the leisure to provide such services at the moment as my 9-5 takes a heavy toll on me. If I still decide to start it, I would have to outsource, which I'm not eager to do. ?

VOUCH for Artisan! He was very efficient with helping me with my assignment and delivered it to me ahead of the due date. Will be buying more services in the future.

Started a poll on this thread to try and figure out if clients prefer some methods of contact over others. I don't have a discord server or anything similar on any platform but I might reconsider based on the feedback received.

Been using Artisan for a few semesters with help with writing big assignments. I had him take extra precautions because some of the AI detectors that are used are extremely oversensitive (so much so that they even look into the history of docs and looks at how it written , how long it took to write, and the edit history, etc) Hes gotten near perfect scores pretty much everytime. Hes also very thorough when you ask him to use specific sources.

I also really hate writing personal stuff or about myself just in general and sometimes I have a big assignment regarding personal experiences that and I like how he handles it so well.

I've had him do topics regarding:

Meteorology

Business

Theories of instruction

Human Relations

Public Relations

Public Speaking (I had him write a few speeches and he nailed the length and topics and speaking styles)

Love this guy, fortunately/unfortunately I'm nearly done with school and he's helped me through a lot of it!

Used his service twice so far, to write essays for my college English Literature class since I have too many things to do in life.

Communication went smoothly, and the pricing is fair.

Even when he provides the finished essay and I ask for several changes, he remains patient and gladly modified it while following any additional instructions I gave.

Overall, I highly recommend using his service. I'll definitely come back again if I need another paper done!
