Thread: Juice WRLD Freestyles Fire over Eminem Beats

Yeah, you got people like Logic, J Cole, and Eminem who are mad good at freestyling and more underground rappers as well too; but nobody can top this shit right here. Kid was literally having so much fun and I didn't hear much stuff that would qualify as regurgitated lyrics that you'd hear from an Eminem or Logic freestyle. This was legit 80% off dome, I mean he's even humming to the beat and shit haha. Another reason too is this kid is completely adapting to old Eminem beats and not using his typical flow or voice that you hear in any of his released/unreleased shit.

RIP Juice :(

R.I.P Juice, the death was so fucking unexpected, I didn't even believe it when I first saw the news that he died. One of the greatest to do it.

Yeah man, I've seen them. Pretty crazy. So sad because he was so young... The potential, gone.

R.I.P. I always liked his music and he was really getting into my mind before what happened.

HE killed this freestyle

I know man, sad that there isn't as much unreleased music from him either compared to some of the other new age rappers that have passed away the last few years whom have had their stuff either redone or were in the process of recording before passing away.

Juice was a treasure. I didn't fuck with all of his music but he defenitely had some really really good songs that I loved!
