Thread: Lost Hackman Egg Sapphire award

xVulnerable - July 4, 2020, 8:37 am

I found the Hackúman Egg Sapphire award a few days ago. Now it's gone? Does it only last for a few days or what?

The eggs you get from posting will only survive for seven days before they die. You can however incubate the eggs and use them in HUM or add them to an awards lottery and earn some bytes.

If you don't hatch it, It dies out after 7days i think.

You can put it up for lottery if you're Uber and get bytes from it

I'm pretty sure eggs have a 7 day expiration date on profiles.

Correct, it's 7 days and it will slowly decay during the days up until the week has passed.

Oh that was a bad lost brother...it's really hard to find great eggs recently and until now egg drops are really slow.

You might get some cool amount of bytes if you only have ship it to the lottery.

The next time you get one you can have it on the incubator, hatch and send to battle or maybe place it on the lottery for bytes :)

Yeah, however it's a legit question.

10 years and can't come up with 25 bucks?

xVulnerable - July 5, 2020, 3:38 am

So just to clarify there's no way to keep the award permanently?

No, all Hackuman Eggs expire after some time. They're just temporary!?
