

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: wasted youth

hugh janus - July 6, 2020, 7:54 pm

do any of you guys feel like you lost out on experiences from growing up because of strict parents? do you ever look back or wonder how your life would be different?

MarvinMalware - July 6, 2020, 8:17 pm

I'm not so sure, I wish I had a stricter parent to be honest. I only had my mother and I followed in her footsteps and committed crimes and experimented with drugs at a young age because nobody told me it was wrong. Sometimes having a strict parent can be an amazing thing, not many people can break the cycle of being shitty humans if they aren't raised properly. :)

Of course there is always too strict that is a big issue as it can cause the complete opposite and drive people to do the things they shouldn't.

Trojan - July 6, 2020, 8:34 pm

Yeah. I mean you can't choose your family its the luck of the draw and you deal with what you have. I mean now its made me the person I am today, so I wouldn't change anything because its how it all ended up.

Method - July 6, 2020, 8:47 pm

(Jul 6, 2020 08:34 PM)Trojan Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Yeah. I mean you can't choose your family its the luck of the draw and you deal with what you have. I mean now its made me the person I am today, so I wouldn't change anything because its how it all ended up.
same w me. I wouldn't change a single thing, even from good or bad experiences.

hugh janus - July 6, 2020, 8:48 pm

(Jul 6, 2020 08:12 PM)Snyke Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Id rather strict parents than no parents.
My adoptive parents sent me off to private school in which I boarded 5 days a week.
On the weekends id go into town and make friends with all the wrong people because of it with no restrictions. By the age of 14, desperate to fit in, I began generating "work" for many of my wankster friends who only knew how to sell drugs. I taught myself how to replicate bus passes and stamp cards, then IDs , government checks in which eventually graduating to counterfeit currency.
When I turned 18, in my first year of university, my best friend snitched me out and I got 6 years in Federal Prison (4.5 served, 3 in max) and have been trying to reset and rebuild my life ever since.

So no, strict parents do not exactly cripple you in my opinion. The experiences you feel you miss out on in your teens and early years will be long forgotten about into adulthood.

EDIT: HUGH JANUS.
LOOOOOOOOL.

Yeah I definitely think that makes sense, I think it can be extreme on either side of the spectrum I suppose.

(Jul 6, 2020 08:17 PM)Shoto Todoroki Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I'm not so sure, I wish I had a stricter parent to be honest. I only had my mother and I followed in her footsteps and committed crimes and experimented with drugs at a young age because nobody told me it was wrong. Sometimes having a strict parent can be an amazing thing, not many people can break the cycle of being shitty humans

if they aren't raised properly. :)

Of course there is always too strict that is a big issue as it can cause the complete opposite and drive people to do the things they shouldn't.

I personally was the opposite. I felt more compelled to rebel because of all the restrictions I lived with my entire life and learnt from a young age to be sneaky etc.

SoulZeh - July 6, 2020, 8:49 pm

I had somewhat strict parents also, however they were separated at a young age for me but it was still good, I don't feel as if I missed out on much at all...

Compared to nowadays I hate that kids have xbox's, ps4s and all the games consoles and don't go out and play, when I was young I loved going out and playing football AKA "SOCCER" but you just don't see that now.

hugh janus - July 6, 2020, 8:49 pm

(Jul 6, 2020 08:34 PM)Trojan Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Yeah. I mean you can't choose your family its the luck of the draw and you deal with what you have. I mean now its made me the person I am today, so I wouldn't change anything because its how it all ended up.

I def wouldn't change anything either but I still think about it often (Jul 6, 2020 08:49 PM)SoulZeh Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I had somewhat strict parents also, however they were separated at a young age for me but it was still good, I don't feel as if I missed out on much at all...

Compared to nowadays I hate that kids have xbox's, ps4s and all the games consoles and don't go out and play, when I was young I loved going out and playing football AKA "SOCCER" but you just don't see that now.

That's all I wanted to do as a kid - go out and play with friends. But my parents never let me out of the house so I was stuck on the computer.

Yanix - July 6, 2020, 8:51 pm

(Jul 6, 2020 07:54 PM)hugh janus Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) do any of you guys feel like you lost out on experiences from growing up because of strict parents? do you ever look back or wonder how your life would be different?

I remember the days when my Dad was really strict for me and my siblings, I was often disappointed then and gets angry when he used to avoid me or with my elder brother going out wherever we wanted to go.

But now we are already adult and now have our own families and children...we have realized what it takes to be a father and what he have done before is for the our own good and he just want us to be a disciplined man in the future :)

Lindros - July 6, 2020, 8:53 pm

My main regrets are with not taking it further with certain girls when I was younger and being friends with a certain individual.

I think it would be cool to go back in time with what I know now.

Deany - July 6, 2020, 8:54 pm

Absolutely not. I build and paint gundam model kits, my life was already over from the start.

Method - July 6, 2020, 8:56 pm

(Jul 6, 2020 08:53 PM)Lindros Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) My main regrets are with not taking it further with certain girls when I was younger and being friends with a certain individual.

I think it would be cool to go back in time with what I know now.

Are you still young or something? Surely you aren't holding regrets regarding females after years.

Deany - July 6, 2020, 9:03 pm

(Jul 6, 2020 08:58 PM)Snyke Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Verified working as advertised 2020.

You build gunpla too? POG ?

Lindros - July 6, 2020, 10:01 pm

(Jul 6, 2020 08:56 PM)sle?p Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Are you still young or something? Surely you aren't holding regrets regarding females after years.

Nah, i'm not young. I've had plenty of women and have a good gf. Just now that i'm experienced I realize all my blown opportunities and stuff. They are only minor regrets, really.

Method - July 6, 2020, 10:02 pm

(Jul 6, 2020 10:01 PM)Lindros Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Nah, i'm not young. I've had plenty of women and have a good gf. Just now that i'm experienced I realize all my blown opportunities and stuff. They are only minor regrets, really.

Oh fair enough. Thought you were holding some deep regret with a female back from highschool or somethin lol

Lindros - July 6, 2020, 10:20 pm

(Jul 6, 2020 10:02 PM)sle?p Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Oh fair enough. Thought you were holding some deep regret with a female back from highschool or somethin lol

Yeah, the bigger one is being friends with a kid who introduced me to hardcore narcotics and stole some very valuable possessions from me.

Method - July 6, 2020, 10:21 pm

(Jul 6, 2020 10:20 PM)Lindros Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Yeah, the bigger one is being friends with a kid who introduced me to hardcore narcotics and stole some very valuable possessions from me.

I've had those type of people in my life. I learned a lot from the things I grew up around so I don't personally hold regrets. It's a shame you got introduced to heavy drugs though, hope you're better/getting better with that.

Lindros - July 6, 2020, 10:38 pm

(Jul 6, 2020 10:21 PM)sle?p Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I've had those type of people in my life. I learned a lot from the things I grew up around so I don't personally hold regrets. It's a shame you got introduced to heavy drugs though, hope you're better/getting better with that.

Yeah. I'm totally good now. Clean for over 4 years and have since returned to school for software engineering. Just the whole thing blends to a regret because it includes my own actions and the people I hurt around me.

Life is completely fine and good now. Pretty much all damage has been repaired and things are better than ever.

Prayz - July 7, 2020, 12:33 am

All the kids THAT I KNOW who were always doing all the fun shit growing up are now not worth a fuck. So I'm glad my parents were strict and never let me do anything.

LORE - July 7, 2020, 12:59 am

My parents are strict as hell, which is why I moved out when I went uni, I started experiencing so much more. I think I abused the too much freedom and started going out more than doing work. But

I'll balance it next year

A + - July 7, 2020, 1:16 am

Your parents probably have good moral values, and are protecting you as their child from making mistakes. I wish that someone would have kept me from doing stupid stuff. You don't want to do something stupid and really miss out on your childhood.

Hackt00lz - July 7, 2020, 1:19 am

(Jul 6, 2020 07:54 PM)hugh janus Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) do any of you guys feel like you lost out on experiences from growing up because of strict parents? do you ever look back or wonder how your life would be different?

My parents never allowed me to play football, till now, i don't know how to play soccer.....it mains me tho.....but i'm happy with the other part of me...the grooming was tough but good

Bacardi Cola Lime - July 7, 2020, 1:20 am

Luckily, my parents were as strict as they should. I don't feel like I missed on experiences as a young person. Well, I may did miss some but not because my parents were strict but due to financial restrictions.

bronzegods - July 7, 2020, 1:25 am

My mother used to sit me down, tell me what not to be but that only want to made me experience it all properly.

L0RE - July 7, 2020, 6:57 am

(Jul 7, 2020 01:25 AM)bronzegods Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) My mother used to sit me down, tell me what not to be but that only want to made me experience it all properly.

Idk why but i thought you were Stanley for a second lol

Yanix - July 7, 2020, 7:01 am

(Jul 7, 2020 06:57 AM)L0RE Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Idk why but i thought you were Stanley for a second lol
This one comment makes me smile :D

What are you doing with your eggs go incubate it and have it on the battle.

L0RE - July 7, 2020, 7:05 am

(Jul 7, 2020 07:01 AM)Yanix26 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) This one comment makes me smile :D

What are you doing with your eggs go incubate it and have it on the battle.
right now I have 1 or 2 that im training, i hope no one kills it haha

Yanix - July 7, 2020, 7:06 am

(Jul 7, 2020 07:05 AM)L0RE Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) right now I have 1 or 2 that im training, i hope no one kills it haha

No one can kill your hum when it's hiding their ass lol

You've now learning huh!? How far have you gotten for your HUM award?

L0RE - July 7, 2020, 7:08 am

(Jul 7, 2020 07:06 AM)Yanix26 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) No one can kill your hum when it's hiding their ass lol

You've now learning huh!? How far have you gotten for your HUM award?
still 0 kills haha, im trying to train them so they do more damage

Yanix - July 7, 2020, 7:10 am

(Jul 7, 2020 07:08 AM)LORE Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) still 0 kills haha, im trying to train them so they do more damage hahaha BIG 0 until now...how many days have you been playing the game?

But wait you've said you've got 2 hum but I can't see even one of those 2 hums on the battle.

LORE - July 7, 2020, 7:11 am

(Jul 7, 2020 07:10 AM)Yanix26 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) hahaha BIG 0 until now...how many days have you been playing the game?

But wait you've said you've got 2 hum but I can't see even one of those 2 hums on the battle.

Haven't checked up on them for a day or so, because I've been trying to get more bytes without paying for it. Let me check if they're dead :(

Edit: Theyre dead, the green eggs are shit. I'll wait until I get a ruby or blue

Yanix - July 7, 2020, 7:16 am

(Jul 7, 2020 07:11 AM)LORE Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Haven't checked up on them for a day or so, because I've been trying to get more bytes without paying for it. Let me check if they're dead :(

Edit: Theyre dead, the green eggs are shit. I'll wait until I get a ruby or blue

Oh that was terrible hahaha

Oooops I haven't lay my hands on your hum :D

You go buy some tickets on my Sapphire lottery and take the chance to win a tougher blue egg for your first battle kill :D

V?rt - July 7, 2020, 7:39 am

Absolutely, and sadly enough as soon as I got outside of my parents house. I had to grow up and haven't been able to stop since. That's why, one of my main goals in life is to be a good parent whenever I have kids.

Artisan - July 7, 2020, 7:58 am

(Jul 6, 2020 07:54 PM)hugh janus Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) do any of you guys feel like you lost out on experiences from growing up because of strict parents? do you ever look back or wonder how your life would be different?

My parents were pretty strict but I wouldnt say Ive lost out on any experiences coz of that. If theyre too strict, just dont tell em everything and do what you wanna do (as long as its not life threatening or criminal)

Maxie - July 7, 2020, 8:04 am

My parents were strict in some senses, but absolutely not in all.

I suppose my dad was a bit manipulative and because of that (which, now, I don't really care about) I did not really drink at all during my teenage years. I recently started drinking on occasion and I think I have a pretty healthy relationship with alcohol. However I think beer and wine is absolutely disgusting, which I think has to do with the fact that I never 'practiced' in my teens.

Sometimes I do regret that I never started partying properly and did fucked up things that I could regret later. But on the other hand, it's nice to only fuck up while being sober.

X-32 - July 7, 2020, 9:49 am

Yeah...I definitely lost out on a lot due to sheltering.

Thankfully though, moving far away for college and living on my own, quickly fixed all of that and taught me things I would have never learned or done back at home.

Longdog - July 7, 2020, 9:58 am

(Jul 6, 2020 07:54 PM)hugh janus Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) do any of you guys feel like you lost out on experiences from growing up because of strict parents? do you ever look back or wonder how your life would be different?

Yes greatly, and now that I've grown up. I basically still do everything I was hiding from them and just now openly display it because fuck are they going to do? By doing this I actually grew closer with 1, while the other wants nothing to do with me. Mine were both manipulative as fuck and now that I am longdog the BENZO LORD, they will not fool me again.

Nate - July 7, 2020, 9:59 am

Haven't really lost stuff due to parents, but i wish they were on my ass more cuz I fucking just skated by high school, and totally not ready for college.

SIM-2848947 - July 7, 2020, 10:17 am

(Jul 6, 2020 08:49 PM)SoulZeh Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I had somewhat strict parents also, however they were separated at a young age for me but it was still good, I don't feel as if I missed out on much at all...

Compared to nowadays I hate that kids have xbox's, ps4s and all the games consoles and don't go out and play, when I was young I loved going out and playing football AKA "SOCCER" but you just don't see that now.

6 or so years ago I used to go to skateparks and shit on scooters with my mates. As we grew up we slowly stopped going over the course of a year or so and just ended up playing Playstation together instead, or if we did meet up, we would just play Playstation.

I've just recently gotten into skateboarding and remembering back then how packed some of these parks used to be it's insane how few people there are at them now. I'm not sure if it's just corona or whatever but it's pretty strange being in theses places empty at 5 in the afternoon which would of never happened a few years back.

Eagle 95 - July 7, 2020, 12:41 pm

I wouldn't know as I didn't have strict parents but I'm glad I didn't. I view them as my friends to whom I can tell anything so I guess they did a good job. :P

That being said, I remember two sisters from my childhood. During summer we would play outside on the street and at exactly 8 pm, their mom would go out of the house and start yelling [name] and [name], dinner and bed time! Lets go! Now! All the other kids (including me) were wtf is her problem. They have become introverts over time and to my knowledge, they were an extrovert to begin with... There were times when we were in the park at 4 pm, their mom would go out of the house and start yelling to come for a after-lunch snack. Snack?! Seriously woman, let the kids play...

I could write a lot more about those two sisters but you get the point. Their mom was, and probably still is, a controlling bitch. They didn't turn out to be any better or more successful individuals than anyone from that street and there were all kinds of parenting present (much more lenient than their bitchy mom). That being said, I feel they missed out on a lot but only they can answer that question.

Lorem Ipsum - July 7, 2020, 12:48 pm

(Jul 7, 2020 12:41 PM)Eagle 95 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I wouldn't know as I didn't have strict parents but I'm glad I didn't. I view them as my friends to whom I can tell anything so I guess they did a good job. :P

That being said, I remember two sisters from my childhood. During summer we would play outside on the street and at exactly 8 pm, their mom would go out of the house and start yelling [name] and [name], dinner and bed time! Lets go! Now!

This sounds exactly like my dad.. We were allowed to play outside, but as we heard 1 whistle (2 fingers, FIEEEWWTT!!!!) we dropped everything, said 'gotta go' to our friends and went back inside as soon as possible. Not even calling names, or whistling twice.. no sir.

That plus many other things I could 'complain' about or share, will most likely turn this thread into a shrink-session hahaha.

I am glad to hear that you befriended your parents, my mother was and is a sweetheart. My dad was different.

I respect those parents who raise their kids with nothing but love and understanding / knowledge, instead of a very firm hand.

gore - July 7, 2020, 2:43 pm

I'd probably be dead if I didn't have strict parents cus I was doing stupid shit even when they were lol.

Joy - July 7, 2020, 7:07 pm

Nah fugg it. I did enjoy a fair bit and still have a portion of my youth to do so. No regrets mate.

frankline - July 7, 2020, 8:01 pm

DUDE WHERE ARE YOU FROM EXACTLY COS YOU SOUND FAMILIAR ?

TOM - July 7, 2020, 9:44 pm

Life is a waste if you dont make it useful and interesting