I mean if you mean directly from the site I don't know, but from some resellers you definitely can.

Yes on the offical amazon site, amazon.in (make sure you go to .in) buy a gift card for someone through the site ON .IN and it will work.

Doesn't matter on card as long as the billing address is right on the CC it should go fine regardless.

Just make sure it says that it's global or can be used in the US, if possible.
