

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: Favorite Childhood Games?

Mercury - July 9, 2020, 9:31 am

I'm feeling a bit nostalgic lately. I remember the days of playing Pokemon on my gameboy for endless hours upon hours. It's incredible how we could use such simple devices to occupy massive chunks of time without any consequence. I've been debating on purchasing a Switch (If I can ever find one) in an attempt to relive it all.

What was your game, as a kid?

zFacetious - July 9, 2020, 10:05 am

I have thousands of retro video games, some from when I was a kid and many acquired in recent months, that being said the game I always go back to and love to play even with my wife would have to be Super Mario World (I know typical game to be a favorite) Other than that my all time favorite game would have to be Green Dog for the Genesis ! Amazing game, the sound track is a little meh but I love the game play and levels!

California - July 9, 2020, 12:49 pm

My top three would be Toy Commander, Star Wars Demolition, and Vigilante: 2nd Offense.

The Dreamcast was my shit.

Mercury - July 9, 2020, 4:25 pm

(Jul 9, 2020 10:05 AM)KO_Sickskillz Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I have thousands of retro video games, some from when I was a kid and many acquired in recent months, that being said the game I always go back to and love to play even with my wife would have to be Super Mario World (I know typical game to be a favorite) Other than that my all time favorite game would have to be Green Dog for the Genesis ! Amazing game, the sound track is a little meh but I love the game play and levels!

I had a Genesis as well. I've purchased Streets of Rage and many other classic Sega games on Steam for the nostalgia factor. So relatable.

1337GAMER - July 9, 2020, 4:27 pm

Man, SO many.

One that comes to mind is Contra.....damn I played the hell outta that game!

Old school Coleco was pretty sweet as well.....Q-Bert, Smurfs, etc.

Good times.....

Mercury - July 9, 2020, 4:28 pm

(Jul 9, 2020 04:27 PM)1337GAMER Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Man, SO many.

One that comes to mind is Contra.....damn I played the hell outta that game!

Old school Coleco was pretty sweet as well.....Q-Bert, Smurfs, etc.

Good times.....

I have Q-Bert on my xbox. It was worth every penny. I forgot about Contra dude. Legendary.

1337GAMER - July 9, 2020, 4:28 pm

(Jul 9, 2020 04:28 PM)mercury Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I have Q-Bert on my xbox. It was worth every penny. I forgot about Contra dude. Legendary.
Hell yeah on both of your statements!

Nyx - July 9, 2020, 6:19 pm

I have so many.

When I was 2-5 years old:

Freddy the Fish

Putt Putt

Pajama Sam

Backyard Sports (Baseball, Football, Soccer)

6+:

Runescape,

Star Wars Battlefront (Xbox 1st edition)

Star Wars Battlefront 2 (Xbox 1st edition)

Halo 1, Halo 2

SSB N64 Edition

N64 Wrestling game where you could design your character.

Every pokemon game from Gameboy Color+ (Have had every edition of gameboy)

Gamecube: SSBM, Naruto fighting games

Xbox 360: San Andreas, COD 4 (BEST COD ALL TIME), MW2, Bo1,MW3, BO2 (Favorite cod after COD 4) Borderlands 1 + 2, Every Assassins creed game.

SIM-1349466 - July 9, 2020, 8:52 pm

Pokemon Yellow & Blue, Zombies Ate My Neighbors, Megaman (played these the most) and a few others.

Deany - July 9, 2020, 8:53 pm

I played Gauntlet Legends and Dark Legacy religiously...

Yanix - July 9, 2020, 9:10 pm

I am fond of playing Contra, NFS, Mario Brothers, Battle City and of course Hide & Seek hahaha

Mercury - July 9, 2020, 9:32 pm

You guys have hit my heart hard thus far. Cheers to simpler times. It's fascinating that something so simple can be so impactful.

frank3nstien - July 9, 2020, 10:11 pm

My favorite game was a Duck Hunt i still play sometimes ??

Nate - July 9, 2020, 10:11 pm

Really loved Battlefront 2 on the ps2, CoD W@W, CoD Mw2, and WOW

Mercury - July 9, 2020, 10:13 pm

Did anyone ever play "Socom"? It was my first major online game. I played it on PSP. It was incredible really. It was also what introduced me to hacking. I got tied up with people who had what we called "Boot tags". I don't know how they worked to this day but they were clans that you ran and when you invited other members they were immediately booted offline (or their PSP froze) until they restarted their console.

Anyway though, It was a wonderful game. It's what started my interest in online gaming that I still have to this day.

Xenicss - July 9, 2020, 11:14 pm

most memorable are definitely Command and Conquer and Diablo i would say.
Those where some good games.

Logik - July 10, 2020, 12:18 am

I remember those days I used to spend hours and hours playing flash games on Miniclip. On the Run, BubbleTrouble, Commando...

Video games these days just don't hit like they used to webdev77 - July 10, 2020, 8:52 am

(Jul 9, 2020 10:11 PM)frank3nstien Wrote: CITE My favorite game was a Duck Hunt i still play sometimes ??

It's still a fun game.

Super Mario Bros 1, 2, & 3

Mario Bros

Dr. Mario

Excitebike

Burger Time

Punch Out

Paperboy

Megatron - July 10, 2020, 10:53 am

I really love Super Mario and Mario Kart on the N64. When I finally got a PS2 as a kid, I played Star Wars Battlefront 1 and 2, Mercenaries, and Dynasty Warriors 2. All very nostalgic games for me.

Neon™ - July 10, 2020, 3:38 pm

I liked quest and strategy games the most because of my father. Games like Myst, Blitzkrieg, Secret Files: Tunguska, The Moment of Silence, Silent Hill etc. were my favorite.

Lightz_ - September 24, 2020, 10:18 am

Not the first of what I played. Runescape, Halo 1, Halo 2, san andreas, Megaman.