frank3nstien - July 10, 2020, 12:12 am

I have Aquaphobia and Thalassophobia... deep water is my darkest fear I even scared in 3-4ft swimming pool ?

Joy - July 10, 2020, 12:15 am

Getting stuck in an endless maze with spiders running after me.

L0RE - July 10, 2020, 12:16 am

Oh damn that sounds pretty fucked.. don't think I have any phobias, nothing really scares me. I used to hate heights, but haven't been high up in a while

SIM-1349466 - July 10, 2020, 12:16 am

My "biggest fear" changes back and forth every couple of years if I sit and dwell on it.

Method - July 10, 2020, 12:58 am

probably getting raped in prison or somethin, that would suck

Euro - July 10, 2020, 1:00 am

Birds, those beady eyed freaks are freaky asf

Deany - July 10, 2020, 1:01 am

I got PTSD from watching those lost/stranded at sea videos on youtube.

B?????araka - July 10, 2020, 1:11 am

To fail as a father just like mine. I want to make my daughter the happiest little girl on earth. Other than that not too many fears on my end.

Method - July 10, 2020, 1:54 am

Actually to be honest, also a whole load of cockroaches near me. I don't mind spiders, snakes, or anything else really but cockroaches are a whole new level.

Perileos - July 10, 2020, 1:57 am

To be forgotten after my death.

Bossk - July 10, 2020, 2:24 am your signature is very strange and weird

SIM-3587630 - July 10, 2020, 2:26 am

Any illness that would make me a vegetable. Or even a paralysis, being able to understand what's going on and if anything happens you can't move a finger.

Free Kurdistan - July 10, 2020, 2:38 am

To die young is my biggest fear. I wanna live life to the fullest.

Lyralei - July 10, 2020, 3:58 am

Losing my sight or hearing, would both be horrifying for me, I think sight is the worst.

Apocryphon - July 10, 2020, 4:03 am

Death, Rapture, Hell Fire

Blockonome - July 10, 2020, 10:05 am

Afraid of being lonely! That is really something that I am afraid of.

?ystem - July 10, 2020, 10:10 am

Easily, falling to my ultimate death. If I am to have a nightmare of any sort that wakes me up is because I'm dreaming I'm falling from a lethal height. I hate heights with the @#$%ing burning passion of a thousand stars.

MavenGradle - July 10, 2020, 10:15 am

Being aware that you're dying, when you're dying. Like cancer for example. Or having a stroke and realizing you're having one.

Riggs - July 10, 2020, 10:16 am

Dying in a dumb way, like getting ran over by an Uber Eats moped or falling down a neolithic well or some shit.

HEISENPUG - July 10, 2020, 10:26 am

Giving in to my urges and killing someone due to my mental health.

Arachnophobia. I'm shit scared of spiders. It was bad when I was young but it got worse when I woke up with a giant house spider above my bed (I lived in an attic with a slanted roof) and I punched the wall and the spider exploded ever since I can't go near them.

They trigger OCD for me too where I will constantly check small places and corners for them.

?roye - July 10, 2020, 10:32 am

I have a fear of height and the fear of driving.

account_ - July 10, 2020, 10:33 am

death

Bacardi Cola Lime - July 10, 2020, 10:34 am

I have thalassophobia and acrophobia. What keep me up at night though is the fear of failing in life. Nothing can't beat that level of fear.

MrJamesDean - July 10, 2020, 10:36 am

I have a very real fear of falling asleep near a wood chipper or buzzsaw and falling on/into them. I used to work in lumber and tree felling for years, and the amount of times dudes would drift off and stumble and nearly fall on them was terrifying, because you work long hours doing really tough work that you get used to the noise and danger, to the point where it just seems normal and you can doze off. I remember one day nearly slipping on some loose wood chips and genuinely fell right on to the edge of the chipper, one foot to the left and I would have put my arm right in it trying to steady myself. I don't see those machines all that often any more, but when I drive past one I get that shudder.

Artisan - July 10, 2020, 11:48 am

I have a fear of spiders, creepy crawlies and also heights. I overcame the height bit but the first two are too disgusting to overcome.

I do like to be alone, like in small amount of time, I guess I am not too comfortable with myself yet, but it is something I am working on. I reach out to too many girls man.

Haha there's nothing wrong with that. As long as they don't have any diseases, go for it Hahahah, that is the thing, I am not sure about that, before I have fallen in the trap ;) Though, I do get tested every 3 months lol! In corona times I have to do it myself at home, which is extremely weird.

How do you test yourself? Do you have your own kit? I've never checked myself cos I'm scared to find out. But then again my body count is not as high as others, it's just double figures

X-32 - July 10, 2020, 12:18 pm

That I will never get answers to my mysterious illness.

Haha, so basically I called my doctor and he told me they will send a kit to me for free! Oral throat swab, rectal swab, pee sample and then you also have to do your own bloodsample, I got my flatmate to help me with the blood one, because that one was the hardest! (rectal swab was kind of weird) hahaha.

Man, I have had positives before, better to find out than never knowing! I have been kind of a slut, which means I have to take responsibility.

I don't think I'm as bad as you. All the girls I've fucked I've spoken to and knew them well enough to know (I hope) they don't have any diseases

SIM-2848947 - July 10, 2020, 12:45 pm

Fuck bees.

No seriously, FUCK BEES.

Did I get my point across?

FK BEES

FK BEES

FK BEES

They're such fucking little pricks, I hate them. I leave my window open for 2 minutes and boom! One of the little fuckers is flying about in my room.

I go out for a walk and one is buzzing about near me, I swat him away and boom! Nice big sting.

Fuck 'em, fuck 'em to hell.

Don't even get me started on wasps.

If you didn't get the message

FK BEES

Yeah... I wish that I would have done that!!!!!! Unfortunately, I have been with some girls, where I was not even sure about their name and yeah, then I had to call the doctor after lol - Most awkward is when they ask, can you bring the girl too and you are like "I have no idea where she is or what she is doing, I just met her last week in the city"

It was worth it hahahaha, some wild girls, however, I am so bad with coming up with stuff when the doctor asks me out of nowhere, not good improvising ??

SourceCode101 - July 11, 2020, 3:40 am

Like u im scared to go deeper into sea , but i like fishing

Filthy Frank - July 11, 2020, 4:09 am

Like actual fears?

I have a mild form of mysophobia (/germophobia) so I'd avoid anything that I deem filthy.

Also I'm geniunely feeling a bit nauseous if I touched something that I think is disgusting (used plates after dinner / public doorhandles / etc.), or ate something over the expiration date (eventough it's fine in most cases). I do wash my hands more often than avarage, but it's not a compulsive thing either, I just like my hands to be clean.

But it's kinda an irrational fear that I somewhat can controll, so that's why I said mild.

Besides that I have some sort of social anxiety related stuff (I can go to raves just fine, but houseparties where friends of my friends are that I don't know is a huge no no) (this is due to some diagnosed other stuff but it's only mild, like the mysophobia, but it gives me more irrational fears than just social anxiety)

Besides that I'm scared of heights and spiders, but that's a bit mundane and common.

Hero - July 11, 2020, 8:17 am

Im afraid of heights. Walking up a high tower is not bad, but walking down is even worse because then i actually see the ground and shit.

V?rt - July 11, 2020, 8:19 am

My biggest fear is honestly not being able to do stuff. For example, I had someone (a friend being stupid) run at me when I wasn't expecting it, and I just kind of shut down and didn't react and that scared me more than he did. I'm terrified of something happening and I won't be able to react or do anything about it.
