Beware of this member he scammed me for 1000$ on cashapp trade. We did not use contract and its completely my fault but just alerting community to watch out when you deal with this poor fella. I wouldnt even post this if he wasnt trusted vendor/exchanger with decent reputation abusing his position on forum that deals with thousands $ per day and its just matter of time when he will exit scam. Here you can see our chat and how it all went, and him deleting discord messages as evidence against him after i confronted him but he didnt know i already took screenshots before that(All screenshotted). Again i didnt use contract and its all one me but just wanted to alert people to be careful in future when dealing with this member. He is also reported/marked as a scammer on every major discord server.

I don't get what's the point of creating threads on HF on disputes when you didn't contract and/or use a MM for deals.

Kind of asking to get scammed at that point...

Artisan - July 10, 2020, 1:22 pm

The welcome pm from Omni clearly warns about this. Lets say he tells you to go right to be safe. You disregard that, go left and fall into a ditch, should you complain? If this guy scammed you then hes a rotten person. Is he cunning? Yes. Can he be penalized even though you didnt make a contract?

Link of him providing his cashtag fixed: If necessary i can provide other proofs that this cashtag belongs to him. I already talked with another member that dealt with him before (This member can vouch for this, also reputed on HF) and this is the exact same cashapp/cashtag he gave him/used for trades.

@Lil Wolf Bruh you scammed me for only $48, when you couldn't top up my account. It was a month or two ago when you were L33t and in wolf pack. When I asked you to refund me, you went cold, stopped replying to my PMs. Now when you've become a V3ndor you contacted me again asking to "fix it" and I told you hey that's done just refund me the money and I'll close the dispute, again, no reply.

It's not about the $48 but rather how can somebody on this forum be trusted as a V3ndor when in the past he scammed for $48 and was using "I just got out of jail" as an excuse lol

1. It involves the whole community, not just you and OP, since he posted it publicly.
2. OP already posted the screenshot of the copied name showing no characters. So the name he was messaging was the one linked to your trust scan.
3. Your Discord WolfPro#1337, as linked on your trust scan, is no longer found when searched on Discord. Why change it?

I have seen more than sufficient proof to know that Lil Wolf does not use or have the cash tag that OP sent the money to. In fact, you can't claim or send to the cash tag that this user is claiming to have sent to, so I don't understand how he could have. I've seen detailed videos on Lil Wolf's cashapp that show all his account information and that he does not have the tag tied to his account that he's been using here and there is no record of the transaction either. I've also seen proof that he has been using a different cash tag in his contracts. His old public contracts have the cash tag that OP used but Lil Wolf switched a couple of months ago and his newer cash tag is not as easy to find. Adding that to the fact that the claimant didn't provide adequate Discord proof, well, I'm fairly certain that OP is dealing with an impersonator or is trying to fugg over Lil Wolf.

Come on, its clear its wolfy boy, like I have no idea how you have come to any other conclusion.

However OP is an idiot, for three reasons - number one - dealing with wolfy boy, number two - not using a middleman for a 1k exchange and finally complaining on here about being scammed after ignoring the thousand warnings to use contracts.

All I'm saying is I've seen videos and photos that lead me to believe that Lil Wolf was not part of this at all and that the user was either duped by an impersonator or is making it up. Plus their inability to provide real Discord proof images also adds to that.

Did you click on any of the screenshots, any?

He clearly shows wolfy boys discord profile which matches perfectly with the one sat in the HF discord. The guy has been here for less than 6 months and you seriously think he wasn't gonna scam out at the first possible time?

Also please inform me how an imposter will add OP when OP clearly sent wolfy boy his discord? Was it all a big coincidence or what?

There is no proof that OP added Lil Wolf's Discord because the method he chose to prove it is not actually proving anything other than that he knows how to view a profile.

Sure its easy to fake, but considering you ignored my other part about lil wolf adding OP, makes thats consideration fly out of the window. Bit sus that you are defending wolfy boy, when it's clear he's the scammer.

And I'm defending him because I have a video of him scrolling through his entire recent Cash App history and showing his account details and showing his cash tag which is different to in OP and also knowing that you can't send money to or claim the cash tag OP is talking about and having proof that the cash tag on the account he showed me in the video with all his transactions has also been used in recent contracts. Also, there's the fact that OP has not shown any proof that he's actually talking to the real Lil Wolf.

Man it's abundantly clear its lil wolf, hes been preparing to scam out since day one. He got lucky here by finding an idiot who decided to deal with a contract and MM. Hopefully before OP is closed for dealing without contracts he can post lil wolfs discord id, and/or join the HF discord and record a vid of him pulling up the messages from the account in the discord.

I can almost guarantee Wolf was behind it.

Plus their inability to provide real Discord proof images also adds to that.

you ignored the part where i said "if it wasnt him then why not warn other users about an impostor" no one would want to be attached to a 1k scam if they really cared about their time here. he built a little trust here and op fell for it. as wolf said he will provide a screenshot many hours ago but somehow one wasnt posted lol. don't be so foolish as i get if wolf showed some proof of it not being him so anyone with a brain will side with op until otherwise as it would be very simple for wolf to show he has no record of dealing with op and case would be closed as we would all know it was indeed an impostor. as well as who decided to take the deal offsite in first place.. wolf yall fucking fighting about useless shit.

mexicanwolverine6 can you enable developer mode on discord and then right click his username and copy paste his unique ID here ASAP

OliverSc - July 11, 2020, 12:52 am

It's extremely easy to prove if you scammed him or not.

Record a video adding Mexicanwolverine6 in discord, even if lil wolf deleted his messages and blocked, Mexican's messages will still be there. Verify also that it's not a new discord account by going to HF discord server and search and edit an old message that you wrote. ALL that in 1 video without cutting anything.

It's easy to verify via ID too. Actually that's the easiest way, but just in case you can't do developer mode in discord or you are newbie you can do the video record, both will prove the truth.

If you can't do it, it means that you 100% scammed him.

Also the fact that Mexicanwolverine6 provides all these screenshots and proofs and Lil wolf provides nothing but words makes it sketchy a lot.

AND IF HE WAS AN IMPERSONATOR HE WOULD JUST BLOCK AFTER PAYMENT, HE WOULDNT REPLY THIS, BUT WE CAN'T BE SURE TILL WE SEE DISCORD ID OR THE VIDEO: <https://gyazo.com/17c8e5a89b0438c045650a1cf50813bf>

The guy you believe can't even show real proof that it's this guy's Discord. I literally watched a screen share that proves this guy never spoke to Lil Wolf on Discord. Maybe he is accepting a payment to it which is dodgy and idk what his explanation for that is, but I'm telling you, I did not see a single message between those two.

Sad, never thought you were the kind of person to let your emotions get the better of you when we can't even say for certain if someone is a scammer. Have you heard of the phrase "Guilty until proven innocent"? There has not been sufficient proof to show he was even talking to Lil Wolf on Discord.

Dude how stupid are you, seriously? Literally we have the payment being sent to a cashtag that wolfy denied being his, two days later after he scammed OP he puts it in a public contract for fuck sake. How can you even defend that anymore? Picking a very strange hill to die on pal.

Your obsession with the discord is weird, we literally have wolf using the cashtag that $1000 was sent to, if wolf made a different discord to talk to OP, it changes nothing. We can clearly see wolf using that cashtag....

Also i've never heard of that saying, heard of innocent until proven guilty though, and i'd say hes plenty guilty.

Guess I'll go sip my glass of orange juice while never visiting Community Alerts or Deal Disputes again because this shit gets so cancerous when two people who believe different parties are innocent clash.

Maybe if people didn't deal without contracts we wouldn't have this shitshow of a thread. lol, he's a scammer because he scammed the guy? how is accepting payments to a cashtag he claims wasn't his not compelling evidence? Please explain your chain of thought?

It doesn't matter who says hes guilty or not, I am literally trying to stop this guy from scamming anyone else and you keep defending him for what? cause you saw a screen share of a blank convo? So you are quick to accept that as fact, but not the clear fact that wolf denied using the tag that OP was scammed on, yet there is clear proof he was using it? It's mind blowing.

edit: what does that edit show though seriously? why would an imposter get the money sent to wolfs cash app? like what?

Well, that's the thing, isn't it? If there's no contract, the scammees doesn't have any good recourse. Just look at the back and forth between questioning of authenticity of screenshots and conversations in this thread.

To me it seems like Lil Wolf took advantage of OP not using a contract and was just hoping that he wouldn't be able to tie things back together on-site.

As one of WolfPro's consistent clients, I have initiated exchanges on and off of HackForums. He has never done anything sketchy with his Discord, there has never been a time when he has disappeared on me, and he is handling my transactions/exchanges which total roughly $15,000 - $20,000 USD. I have had at least 30+ exchanges handled by him, so I don't really see this happening. I've had single exchanges well over the 1k that is claimed to be scammed. There is also no contract to back this up? I have only seen consistency through WolfPro, which is why he became the sole exchanger that I go through. A friend messaged me on Snapchat, mentioning this thread. I will not be reading through this thread, but if you have questions that I can answer, then please PM me.

Received a PM: yes there was probably a contract or two that we ended up using a different CashApp for, but the exchange never changed and it went through just as quick. I'm not sure if he is comfortable with me listing the accounts he has used, so I will leave it at that.

I'd like to think anyone with half a brain would judge someone on how they treat new members, if an exchanger is willing to scam someone who isn't well informed of the site, it really shows their character. I'd also like to think people would care about people who actively avoid using the contract system to scam people, shocking you would defending someone who would do that.

If he scams with a contract, he probably would refund. He knows he can make more money from getting mainly new members to deal with him with a contract first, then after a few trades no contract and that is when he will scam. Hopefully he will be back in prison soon though, where he belongs.

You fail to understand what i'm saying clearly. If the tag really didn't exist since April, you would simply have replied to this thread saying. Yeah the tag was deleted in April or w/e and this is just a false accusation.

However, when you don't do that and lie about it being an impersonator, it is simply too late to use that card.

But OP NEVER I MEAN NEVER POSTED MY UPDATED ONE take your pic down now you see how you're on the actual cashapp he's on chrome on mobile like why ... I just am unlucky tbh I wish I would've scammed him then I wouldn't have to reply or worry about the headache cause I would'nt even care I would've just sent him that money but I ain't giving no one a free 1k $300 he would've got it like $1k no stop it ??

No offense but the fact that you can get like 5 community reports opened on you in like a week for fishy behavior, all saying you're doing the same sketchy shit dragging users offsite into a discord server or whatnot to deal there without a contract.

I'm not saying you're a scammer but your Discord full of "verified exchangers" scammed someone for like $180 and kicked them out of the Discord, then like last week (i believe this OP) said they got scammed $1k from you.

Not saying you are, but it sounds like you're just selectively getting users off of HF who are new enough to the forum to deal without a contract and then pushing all them off as impostors / your "verified exchangers" that are the ones doing the scamming and that its never you.

How are there so many users with 100 - 400 b-rep that haven't had as many issues as you have had doing currency exchanges in 1 week? Makes everything look extremely suspicious. Especially since I was basically overlooking the entire deal you had with Simp because the money he was exchanging was going to me. I was 100% aware of everything that was going on, and you even ignored me on HF when I messaged you about it and were browsing the forum for like 10 minutes until i negged you, then i got an instant response about how "it wasnt your problem" and that "oh well they should have used a contract" you seemed very negligent when it came to your own verified, trusted exchangers scamming.

Coincidence?

Mehhhhhhhhhhh I don't think so...

He's on chrome you act like he can't edit in chrome you acting like you can't even have the same name on different cash app so 2 people named John Doe can't have a cash app? So many people would not even be able to ewhore you're just heated at my post on your thread it's okay

So you just refused on giving the money back to the OP.

Don't see any reason why discussion should be continued, Lil Wolf should be removed from the Vendor Role.

i don't think you really liked me or had any empathy towards me. you just saw that you were getting fucked up by disputes and here we are now.

Bro I'm not even reading what you are posting, unless it is a clear video of what I requested previously. It would be a two minute task, if what you were saying was true, but clearly its not and that's why you cant.

I also don't care to message you on discord, I want it posting here on the forum. Why do you care about my opinion? Clear your name if what you are saying is true.
