Quickloved so posting to take an entry. I think the userbar looks awesome. The original size gives it a championship belt kinda vibe but the enlarged one you posted made it clear to me that those gold thingys are actually coins/chips so that works well with the name to. On a scale of 1-10 I would give this close to a 10.

The userbar is very vibrant and unique in comparison to those that currently exist. Incorporating a gold spectrum (some what stepping over Monopoly's green color) and then incorporating white. Can I ask what is the main goal for this group?
