Thread: VPS with HIGH DDoS Protection suggested?

Zamper - July 12, 2020, 5:02 pm

I'm looking for some hosting that provides VPS with ddos protection.

Blazingfast is not enough.

Looking to mitigate ddos attacks over at least +100 Gbps as i'm being DDoSed for long time already.

Was thinking about OVH , any other ideas?

OVH is a solid choice. Also, check out NFOServers if you haven't already.

Their Seattle and Chicago locations have done me well for years.

We've mitigated attacks in excess of 600Gbps without the client being affected, we also never null route your IP.

Depending on your budget, Voxility has the best protection (up to 1 Tbps)
