Thread: What will people say about you at your funeral?

Free Kurdistan - July 15, 2020, 6:02 am

Thought of this while taking a big dump. If you were to die tomorrow and the people you expected to be there were there and are gonna say something about you, what would they say?

For me I'd imagine things like being very smiling, happy, high on life, social and pretty much friends with everyone. I loved my family and those people I grew up with and still could call friends during the tougher and the more adult years.

What about you?

???????????? - July 15, 2020, 6:08 am

Probably lies that i was always happy and never had a day where i felt like i'm on depression endlvl what i've actually felt. No idea to be honest, and if you ask the people on here, some wont accept the fact that the others probably lie about you either because they want to have you in a good memory or because they didn't know about your actual feelings.

"He was a good guy"

That's it

Blockonome - July 15, 2020, 6:12 am

Some people would say that he fully lived life, yet never stopped being a child, others will call him their enemy and smile at his funeral, but a few people will truly understand that he has now found peace in leaving this world, from the never ending pursuit of excitement and happiness, where a void had been created, that could not be filled.

I feel you man. I'd get why they'd try to make it seem like you were always happy and make up lies. Also unless you open up 24/7 they would never know about your thoughts or feelings.

People would probably say I was a crazy motherfucker if it were my friends. Family would say he was such a happy lad and never failed to make us laugh. Either that or I was hard to handle haha

Depends on who all would be attending because I do have a handful of people out there that absolutely loathe me for varying reasons, like, for breaking up with them or them just holding a grudge because they're jealous of whatever regarding me(there's this one tool who just @$%ing hates me from all throughout high school and into adulthood because he couldn't get girls to like him, but I could and he's outraged because he thinks himself as being "superior" to me, or whatever).

But for the many, many friends I've gained over my lifetime, they would probably say that I was caring, considerate, funny, and devout to my loved ones. At least, I hope they say something nice like that. Yeah, I'm kind of an asshole by nature but I'm definitely loving and devout to my close friends/family members.

Limitado - July 15, 2020, 12:12 pm honestly im not sure. Im still kinda young so I will need to do more in my life to benefit others.

bronzegods - July 15, 2020, 12:12 pm

He didn't just get them pregnant but he left large sums for all his baby mamas.

Artisan - July 15, 2020, 12:52 pm

I think people would be very sad at my funeral since I try to constantly make people laugh with jokes and fool around with them (unlike my demeanor here). Some of my family and friends will probably still be pretty mad at me coz I stopped all forms of communication with them after it became apparent to me that they only showed very superficial and shell personalities to others (including me). The family and friends that I still talk to would be the most affected by my demise and they would mostly have good things to say about me since I have never treated anyone unfairly and selfishly.

I mean, I don't think we expect to see people that we fucked over or that we have a bad connection with at our funerals tbh. - unless they hold that grudge even when you're dead, then show up and tell everyone how big of a cunt you were and then take a leak in ur hole.

The only people that would probably attend would be my family and they would definitely cry like hell.

Lies.

Everyone lies. They would preach about how happy I was from my business and family.

Rather 2 close friends you trust and love than 100 fake that you can't really use.
