

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: Business planning

Anonymise - July 16, 2020, 2:00 am

Hey guys,

Since I'm currently making a onlyfans clone, I want to make sure to include a few HQ members from Hackforums

I'm considering 2 options for the Hackforums community:

- 1- A $250 signup fee. You will receive 4 (verified) model slots on the page with a 2 year 0% commission fee.
- 2- Free signup, but a 10% commission fee, verified account for $75 per account.

What would you prefer to pay, if any at all?

Open to all feedback!

thorr - July 16, 2020, 2:54 am

- If you already have traffic than post your traffic here to see what the potential buyers will pay for.
- If it is a new website and you have no traffic, isn't it better for you to offer your services for free to a few HF members? They will use your website but in the same time you will get traffic (it is free advertising).... once you have enough traffic (maybe at least 1k-2k visitors / day) than you can set a fee, otherwise it is too early to ask money for it.

1default - July 16, 2020, 3:03 am hi buddy, nobody would pay 250$ for an REAL onlyfans account with no traffic, and you expecting to get it for a clone ? :) diversifying it in "4" pieces? 75$ per account?

no offense but its useless :)