Make unfunny puns and jokes and lick the ass of every comment you see

Copy content from top subreddits and re-post it in relevant but less popular subreddits.

If you join "free karma" subreddits, some other subreddits that have karma requirements don't allow having farmed karma from that kind of subreddits.

There are a few people on here selling Reddit accounts.

I believe I saw a few people offering either bots or bot services for karma and other stuff to boost your reddit account.

Try the search bar advanced mode.

I will look to and post back if I find anything!

Other than that there are karma subreddits that will definitely help out at first.
