Thread: sometimes when i type fast sentences i type different word that i wanted

reGame - July 17, 2020, 2:40 pm which is weird,i think my brain is a bit damaged eg i just fast typed a sentence and instead of WITH i wrote IN total facepalm. IN doesnt fit there and its not even close letter-wise on QWERTY.

or its my subconscious trying to steal control from me? dont know...

do you have such experience sometimes?

Signs of a simp, go see a professional.

This used to happen to me, best course of action is to just shut the fuck up and do what you gotta do, helps a lot.

Might be some form of dyslexia. Should actually follow the "go see a professional" advice given by my predecessors in the thread.

I heard that word for the first time about a week ago and Urban Dictionaried it. I wholeheartedly agree. OP is a simp.

I had the same issue but it turned out I had crooked fingers and pressed on the wrong keys OP.

This used to happen to me but then I started typing with my fingers instead of toes.

Take a good amount of time to relax, since it happens only when you type very fast

I have just realised the mistake in the subject. Congrats, OP! :)
