Thread: Phones behind 500,000,000 Facebook profiles - generating leads and targeted niches.

FbLeads - July 22, 2020, 7:13 am

Hey HF.

I am selling exclusive phone leads taken directly from Facebook users, they are not public and weren't scraped. (These aren't phones the users posted anywhere on Facebook but the actual phone linked to their account)

???

The information you get is:

Phone, Facebook ID, Name, Last Name, City, Workplace.

Some don't have the City and workplace but all of them have the Phone, Facebook ID, Name, Last name.

In addition, if you provide me with a Facebook public group, I am able to extract up to 10,000 users per group and provide you the phone numbers of around 30%-40% of the users in that group.

That would cost you $100 per 1,000

Hi. I'm interested. But first, I'm curious as to how you obtain the data if you did not scrape it? And when you say "extract" up to 10,000 users per group, isn't this scraping? Thanks.

Not scraped, the profile data is scraped but the phone number behind the profile is private and was never posted by the user, I can provide you a sample and you can verify that.

you can also compare against whatever other databases you have and see that this information is private and isn't out there.

Cool. Can you send me a few samples please?

Interesting. But just so you know, only vendors are allowed to use the autobuy feature, such as shoppy or anything like that.

How does one become a vendor?

You'll have to apply here on the forums, and I'm pretty sure you'll have to pay a fee.

How fresh is this data? Was it hacked or admin priveleges? Curious if you could share more details.
Thanks.

If the facebook group has 100k members you cant help wout with this ?

OliverSc - July 24, 2020, 4:42 am

I'm pretty sure that shoppy links aren't allowed. I've been warned for that.

About your thread, seems interesting would be great if you give some vouch copies to reputable members.

I can extract 10,000 from that group and run their profiles to find their numbers
