I use TL-WN722N v1 and it is pretty awesome and really small so you can use it at shopping centres, restaurants etc.

However, I would recommend ALFA AWUS036NHA, it has the same chipset as mine but it has bigger range, I am pretty convinced.

Also downsides to both are that they only support 2.4GHz. (Not sure if that Alfa one supports 5Ghz, maybe it does)

But if you are ready to spend some bucks and have an awesome one get Alfa AWUS1900.

I found the speeds and ease of use of net Dyn to be fantastic

The easiest solution is Alfa adapters, Personally I run TP-Link TL-WN722N v1 also my wifi dedicated machine has a fully compatible internal wifi card.

Alfa AWUS036H [b/g USB]

Alfa AWUS036NHA [b/g/n USB]

Alfa AWUS051NH v2 [a/b/g/n USB]
