Haven't seen one of those in a while

Is it still a thing?

PokeBong - July 25, 2020, 6:57 am

Judging by my video views I dont think a no fap challenge is gonna happen lol

Xen - July 25, 2020, 6:59 am

They're usually towards the end of the year where I see a massive influx of people posting about the no fap challenge.

Yeah because of new years intentions

But why? What's the point in that?

It's the same as saying no sex challenge whilst married or having a girlfriend? What's the point? Pleasure is pleasure, please explain.

Free Kurdistan - July 25, 2020, 7:04 am

If there was some goal or reason to then sure, but I'm too bored during the quarantine lmao

You will get a boost of testosterone for a few days, get more confidence with girls, etc. Pretty good

I'd say me fapping or not doesn't have an impact on my confidence. It's just a late night pleasure thing. ?

It doesn't give you confidence, it makes you desperate for a shag.

Bro you will be sky rocketing then ???

Also, iv'e heard that people who join the no-fap usually feel better with themselves, health wise. Apparently fapping alone to constant hardcore (ish) porn is not suitable for your body, you are used to lesser amount of testosterone or w/e its called so its like your abusing your body by giving it floods of Tes' which u "cant" handle properly.
Its like using a drug basically.

Still not related to stop doing sex or sexual things with a partner, thats different.

Yeah that's a common thing

And you get more testosterone

Still not related to stop doing sex or sexual things with a partner, thats different. The only reason I would ever do a no gap challenge m, now all jokes aside is because of it being like a drug, sometimes I say to myself ok let's not fap tonight, and somehow I always end up doing it before bed ?

Kinda weird speaking about this like this, but it is like q drug, so that would be the only reason.

Shall we all do the challenge then?
