Tried looking seed mail up on youtube and stumbled onto a John Oliver video about setting up a church. Probably popped up coz of me watching his show before but you should see this episode. Funny as shit. ?

Yeah, I've read about them, it seems quite strange. We'll see what an investigation will bring up. I did read something about a possible retail scam.

Never heard of it. Have they shown what it contains?

Yeah actually my stepdad was just talking about this last night. He said his coworker was telling him about it and his wife had received a weird package in the mail when she ordered something way different. Definitely some creepy stuff man.
