Looks really good to me, I know where you got the vector icons from but I really like the color scheme and the button gradients and everything else you got going on! :)

Really appreciate it mate! That site is gold, saves a ton of time that would have been spent on making the illustration itself. ?

This looks super clean. Also, is that some mocked up version (with dark grey backgrounds as a margin) or the whole is final product?

Well the design does look quite nice, only thing I would do is to do more light colours :) I guess that is not that important though?

As everyone else says, I like how clean it looks and I like the theme of it.
The dark/ish color theme.
