Thread: Hide a RAT not in Exe but in Jpg ?

Maxxxer - July 29, 2020, 6:46 am

Hi,

Im asking if its possible to hide a Rat not in a Exe but in a Pic like he opens the JPG and in backround it executes the RAT if there is something like that how much does that cost anybody know someone?

Yes , you can easily bind it with any program using file binder. So more likely it will be detected by av as malware/virus.

Even file binder is detected as virus.

yes there is something like that. you will bind the rat to a jpg with a file binder. there are crypters out there that support this feature and/or there are stand alone file binders. you will find enough stuff like that on the forums. i think you should take a look at lime binder. i tested it, because i never tried binders in my ealy ratting years. and it works pretty well. opens the image and in the background the server starts up

You cant hide a .exe in a .jpg as a jpg is not an executable.

You can use 1990s method of spoofing

or

Check out mLNK! in my signature!

mLNK converts ANY exe vbs js or dll file in to a .lnk (shortcut) which bypass's SS alert and WD cloud/mem scanner!

Inside the IMG or ISO exploit or if extracted from a ZIP you do not see the .lnk so you you can have it as any extension you want!

Simply you can't... use another exploit like mLnk, or office.

how is it a scam? every legitimate exploiter maker would make a stub with their exploit and put it on virustotal so its detected then they can sell it to clients as fud and will have proof its fud till everyone finds out.

Hello,

Hack-tools.net has been long debunked as a scam.

Exactly. People just aren't that smart. jeez guys!
