Thread: Rocketr.net ?

Sucxex - July 29, 2020, 11:52 am

Has anything changed over the years? Does Rocketr.net still get your paypal limited? Or is that or was that juts a rumor? Also some questions..

Can you still just put out a product link via rocketr domain and the customer can download a file and or be redirected etc? Or do you need to have a website now?

Also if my only payment reception option is paypal. Can people pay with debit and credit cards through paypal. Or can only stripe do that? Thanks lmk

Stripe is a complete different thing, You can only accept cards over it, but the main thing is you need to get accepted over stripe where as in paypal anyone can make account over there without any approval.

I've stopped using Rocketr once I realized I was getting spam messages to my Email through Rocketr platform. It used to be great payment-wall but I'm not certain it still is. Just my 2 cents.

ya it is. once sites become known for fraud they will. its why iptv sellers use whmcs but put they selling servers as whmcs smarters platform is known for iptv services now and paypal knows it.
