Any US ones?

Might be interested in these if there's a US one.

Thank you for letting me know, removed!

I'll look for another one now.

This list is a little outdated so thank you plenty for the cooperation.

Removed the Danish ones for now.

Thank you for the share honestly, even if only a couple are working, it's still useful to someone.

Thanks for sharing this info, really helpful for me man :) but you would search for US numbers? I need US real numbers

AppleWhelmer - August 2, 2020, 5:40 am

Please get US numbers buddy!

I did manager to find a website last night however they're charging a delivery fee for the SIM itself? Strange.

Will update when i can.

Thanks you very much for the share man.

But shit not free sim for french people haha.

This is cool. SIM cards are widely available for free from most major networks in the UK. Anyone looking for some can just order them from sites such as giffgaff.com voxi.co.uk or lebara mobile.

Lucky you, here in Australia all SIMs are locked and cost money.

Pa1N - August 9, 2020, 5:09 pm

I got one for free in Austria and is working fine

Note for the most Eu Countries you have to absolv
a bad verification and then you arent anonym anymore!
