It looks good, not familiar with it so it should be unique :)

Looks fresh to me as well, my first impression though, was that it looked like a battery saving app.

Looks good and fresh. I have never seen this icon being used any where.

That icon looks unique, just make sure it's not TM/© before making it your own.

Its just unique SIM-4387328 and looks appealing but still there are more room for improvement so I will rate this as 7/10

Right now it's a solid 7/10. The color scheme is visually appealing, though you might want to add a transparent background if it will be displayed on several different places across your app.

nice, will you add a background too?

jecoylecroy - August 3, 2020, 11:29 pm

It looks like a broken battery.

Dunno why but the icon reminded me of radioshack. Not that theyve used it before or anything. I think it looks pretty great to be honest.

Xerotic - August 4, 2020, 12:43 am

Reminds me of Reddit. I like the look of it.

It's a nice icon, however not for a social media app though, in my opinion.

Good luck with your venture OP.

Never seen this before but she's looks like a little to the Reddit icon I think :p

The Dude - August 4, 2020, 8:14 am

That's great logo and I have not seen it before.

Free Kurdistan - August 4, 2020, 11:13 am

Looks like as if Discord and Reddit had a child. It's cool though.

Marketplace - August 4, 2020, 12:22 pm

Doesn't that kinda look like reddit's?
