Thread: Why hasnt my transaction cleared yet on blockchain

Lil Wolf - August 5, 2020, 1:12 pm

So I've sent money before and after and just like 30 mins ago they are all confirmed yet this one isn't can someone explain to me what's going on?

shitty fees means you'll continue to get pushed back blocks.

It's just a low preference, but should clear up soon.

I'm surprised that in 8 hrs you didn't get 1 conf tho

My wallet auto pays the fees but its the same fee with all my transactions made ones after this one and they confirmed

If you are using blockchain wallet i suggest you change to an other wallet that supports RBF (replace-by-fee) like electrum.

Blockchain isn't the best wallet to use nowadays and has insane high fees for primary sending. They will slow the transactions' confirmations just to push you to use higher fees.

Good luck,

Actual confirmation within 1 block is 215 sats / b, you sent a transaction with 90 sat / b, so from payment you need to wait about 2-20 blocks.

You may use a fees calculator like this: <https://www.buybitcoinworldwide.com/fee-calculator/>

Or use HF's BTC transaction accelerator from Hack Tools.

Fee per vByte 98.7 sat/vB

the current blocks all have +30-50% more than the fee you paid on this transaction. You'll just have to wait until it gets included in a block that gets confirmed. Mempool.space will show you exactly when your transaction is coming up.

on its way now .

Dame DOLLA - August 5, 2020, 4:56 pm

cause blockchain knows u scammed a user here.

karma a bitch huh kid

RushEm - August 5, 2020, 5:15 pm

There was this one time I waited 4 days for one transaction to confirm. You just have to wait it out.

flavoral - August 5, 2020, 5:32 pm

Good luck
