ADRENA PROTECTOR

With ADRENA, it is cheap and easy to protect your app!

FEATURES

- > Manual Run-PE: Your app will be manually mapped into the process, mimicking the way Windows does it.
- > Code Mutilation: The code will be transformed into unrecognizable, meaningless code which prevents process dumping, signature/pattern scanning, etc.
- > Low Entropy: The outputted protected app will have a low entropy in order to hide the fact that your app is packed within it.
- > Advanced Anti-VM: The method used to detect virtual machines is very hard to fake without a targetted approach.
- > Proprietary Code: This software is not based on anything else and is written entirely from scratch without even any borrowed ideas, guaranteeing a greater effort required to analyze it.
- > More... Internal stuff that should not be publicly shared

The software is compatible with: Windows 7, Windows 8, Windows 8.1 and Windows 10, both 32-bit and 64-bit, both Native and .NET.

For now, the Manual Run-PE is only compatible with Native 32-bit applications. Different methods will be used for the rest of the files.

Very helpful member. There was an issue regarding the website that he fixed very quickly and from that point on all worked as described, I managed to encrypt my stub and it got a 1/26 detection rate.

Later he told me he was working on his Anti-VM method to solve the last AV picking it up. I really like Adrena Protector and at $10/mo it seems like a score.

Can I test this? I plan to release programs to sell and I need a obfuscator / crypter, but the one im using can be deobfuscated pretty easily.
