Thread: Just bought \$1,000 Ethereum Classic - Update: Stop-loss hit. \$6 profit, pathetic.

Unlike the rest of the major alts ETC has only made an 8% move in the last 30 days.

Looking for at least a 40% move to the upside to $10.

It's a shitcoin but still probably will go up in this market

good luck

It is indeed a shitcoin.

Should begin ascending towards $10 soon

It literally got 51% attacked twice in the last 2 weeks and attackers stole something like 10M. Coinbase is delaying all deposits by 2 weeks. What on earth made you buy etc right now

If I were you I would sell 2000% now. It's super dangerous imo as it got 51% attacked.

$5.6m / 807k ETC, I know yeah.

Makes no difference to my trade.

Nothing has changed they can launch another attack and another and another and another. With the money they have they can continue to attack until they drain it dry.

It would only take ~140,000 ETC to crash orderbook on Coinbase to ~$0.01 and they would still have 660,000 ETC left.

Regardless of how many they have and when/if they do it again will make no difference, markets react fast and these people are actually going to want to sell their ETC for at least 50% of it's "value"

Solid investment but this stuff can always be so volatile. Goodluck with your investment man

Indeed it can be. Risk management is key.

It's a trade, more than an investment.

Up 3%, need another 37%. Brr brr boring.
Stop-loss hit. $6 profit, pathetic.
