You will be fought by the administrator because he will simply say that it is Black Hat activity but he's make displaying advertisements for the hacking software Like a RAT , 0day exploit , etc .

It's one thing to be a keylogger, it's another thing to steal credit card info that is saved.

The owner of the forum makes advertisements for Rat software

To anyone who comes here with a criminal mind, please, fuck off.

Imagine being a parent of some kid, using this software to protect your kid against using your credit card for buying games or stuff, or even getting scammed by someone, you easily can see what sites do they have access to and much more things that would be really appreciated. if I was a parent. this is the kind of program I would use to protect my information and also to see what my kids are doing over the net.

Everything I said includes Web History and bookmarks.

now, Stop write stupid things to this genius user.
