Thread: Introverts vs Extroverts

Dopamine - August 12, 2020, 5:10 pm

As said in the title, do you consider yourself as an Introvert or Extrovert?

Votes are anonymous, feel free to discuss about your choice in comments. ?

Introvert. We win. We are made for pandemics.

Wafflemonger - August 12, 2020, 5:18 pm

I am an introvert. I'd rather stay inside and do nothing. Maybe hang out with 2-3 friends, but any more than that and I just don't want to partake in the activity. That extends to video games as well, 2-3 people, fine. Any more, idk, I'd have to know them really well.

Same here. Mostly going outside on my own, sometimes going to a friend building something on his car but I can't go to a party because of all the shit that fucks me up.

Malthemar - August 12, 2020, 5:51 pm

I can't tell - Am I an introvert or just a loser?

Who knows? Who cares?

raccoonweeweesucker69 - August 12, 2020, 5:53 pm

I act introverted, but I'm actually an extrovert. But who cares though? xd these are all meme terms

Nyx - August 12, 2020, 5:57 pm

I took a personality test and got a 100% extrovert scoring. I need physical interaction with other humans or I go crazy. One of the reasons Covid is such a miserable time for me is the lack of interaction or being able to go out and do things with friends.

I wouldn't really call them "meme" terms.

Psychologists use both phrases to help diagnose problems their patients might be having all the time.

MarvinMalware - August 12, 2020, 6:16 pm

Big time introvert, I've always kept to myself.

Nima304 - August 12, 2020, 6:23 pm

Pretty sure most people here (including me) are introverts. Whenever I need to (like in work/business environments), I'll pretend to be an extrovert, and it kind of tricks my mind into interacting with people like a normal person, but it takes a lot out of me.

SIM-4660060 - August 12, 2020, 6:40 pm

imagine having to interact with other people literally gone four months without speaking to anyone

Artisan - August 12, 2020, 7:29 pm

A bit of both depending on the situation but my extrovert side is probably dominant.

X-32 - August 12, 2020, 8:47 pm

1 in 4 HF members are extroverted.

Lmfao seems so fitting.

shidder - August 12, 2020, 9:18 pm

Agree with the other user above. Useless to define yourself by either of these. Just terms that bear no real meaning.

Lyrarei - August 12, 2020, 9:52 pm

I'm almost split between the two, but I'm definitely more introverted than extroverted.

jecoylecocoy - August 12, 2020, 10:56 pm

I'm introvert for sure I always want to be alone. I keep my problems within myself.

Exalted - August 12, 2020, 10:59 pm

Introvert. A personality test said so.

bevc - August 13, 2020, 12:02 am

Definitely introvert. I once went an entire year without speaking to anybody.

Everybody should read 'Quiet: The Power of Introverts' by Susan Cain, it's a brilliant book, and debunks the notion that being an extrovert is always something keenly to be desired.

Fortunate - August 13, 2020, 12:48 am

I'm definitely a mix of both, at work and at school I am extroverted. But when it comes to being alone I am my best friend and enjoy being alone.

MightyOne - August 13, 2020, 1:20 am

I voted introvert but honestly im both, its really depends on the situation.

i can be either when needed to. but none alone

Vitello - August 13, 2020, 1:23 am

When I was younger I was definitely introverted, but a few years ago, I made some decisions in my life. I wasn't happy with the person I was.

I would like to have more friends and I didn't want to feel left out all the time.

Deep down, I'm still introverted, but I've found a good balance where I can have a great time with friends and family, and still enjoy it.

Dopamine - August 13, 2020, 1:55 am

Wow didn't expected to see more Introverts ?

I'm glad to see we're not alone

Neon™ - August 13, 2020, 3:36 am

I'm somewhere in between but leaning much more towards the introvert side so I voted for "introvert" in the poll.

Introvert definitely for a reason, that is the reason why we are here .

hfvenomous - August 13, 2020, 4:09 am

I actually believe myself to be an Ambivert, a combination of both, as my habits cycle between both kinds, sometimes I like to party and sometimes I just wanna chill with some friends and have a generally good time

Ble$$eD - August 13, 2020, 4:39 am

I'm definitely a introvert, I don't really care to be around a whole lot of others. Sometimes people just get on my nerves I don't really care to be involved or invited into others problems.

Dopamine - August 13, 2020, 9:18 am

Yeah i'm like you I think bro

Ivex - August 13, 2020, 9:20 am

Extrovert. The only reason various tests show me as 30-40% introverted and not 100% extroverted is I've suffered from social anxiety much of my life. As the years go on, I suffer from it less and less though.

Horus God - August 13, 2020, 9:31 am

Im an Introvert ENTJ. Introvert wins hfrocket1713 - August 13, 2020, 9:49 am

i'm very extroverted. but i can also be a real quiet kid depending on the situation. but i am very social.....

~~((HACKER))~~ - August 13, 2020, 11:03 am

I'm an Ambivert. So I speak accordingly.

Bacardi Cola Lime - August 13, 2020, 11:19 am

I consider myself being somewhere in between.

Yeah I guess. I like both being with people and having some alone time.

In my case I was extroverted but during the last 4 years I founded that many of my old friends was fake as fuck so I just kick them out of my life and spend my time here. No drama, no bullshit and making online money is better worth it than them fakes ass.

$neaky - August 13, 2020, 3:18 pm

Introvert.. really value my time alone, I like it peaceful.

randomvodkalover - August 13, 2020, 3:21 pm

Introvert. When i am surrounded by people i just keep quiet. If i would always say what i think nobody will like me so i'm staying quiet

B FOR BADASS - August 13, 2020, 3:22 pm

Introvert all the way...I like the polls you make in here :))

Yeah I agree, you don't need fake friends and toxicity in your life.
