Thread: [\[Q/F\] Random ratings](#)

DaisyOdland - August 13, 2020, 3:56 am

The past month or so I keep getting positive ratings from people I've never had any contact with nor have reason to rate me.

Every time it's on days I'm logged in to the site even though I did not interact nor posted anything. (Mainly lurking these days)

Which makes me think they're just finding me from a (recently) online list or something.

In fact I just received 2 more while typing here.

It's clear that they're trying to get a + rating back (rate 4 rate). Especially since some will quickly change to negative if i rate them an "i don't know you" ?

I don't know if the max. rating per day cap or whatever has changed and the system became completely meaningless or something.

However it's bothering me, since these green + addicts poison the system of actually contributing something to receive a +.

And I don't want their meaningless +'s.

Do I report these people? Can I stop the rating spam somehow with an account setting?

ps. Not sure if this was the right place for this, I thought anywhere else would be worse than here.

Why don't you read the Help Docs

I have better things to do since I'm only lurking these days.

But hey I took a peek anyways and it answered my first questions but I do not see a way to opt out or whatever to stop this spam.

Also I don't understand the reason of existence for the rating system at all if there's no rules to it attached anymore. Just a way to scam newbies easier?

You don't understand because you have better things to do. The popularity system as the name says is for popularity. For the marketplace we have b-rating. Now please, read the Help Docs.

Good to know popularity is based on rate 4 rates. Help Docs does not tell me how to opt out of this spam as mentioned in my previous reply to this thread.

You want to tell me that the reputation system didn't have rep4rep abusers? Lol.

Anyway, it's not like you got 50 popularities in the last 24h, you got 7 popularities in the last 6 months. You can't disable for someone to give you popularity.

Holy fuck are you a crybaby.
You got 7 reps in the last 6 months. "I GOT SPAMMED".

Of course but they actually took a risk and got caught from time to time. And there was a daily limit as well.

I don't understand why the system even exists if there's no rules anyways. It's just who spams others the most to get rates back. And then you can easily scam some noobs with your "big popularity" with some shitty ebooks. But this has always been the core business here of course. And it's not my decision to have this system or not, nor does it hurt me a lot apart from these rate4raters bothering me.

Either way I got 3 ratings right now being logged in for a few mins and 2 on the 2 other days I was online for more than a minute too. So it's a clear online monitoring thing from green hungry girls like you who need to act cocky to a simple complaint that could've been answered in 2 lines.

"Yes it changed, there's no limits nor rules on it anymore, so I don't know why it exists. And no you can't disable it or anything"

Maybe know the context before being cocky. Context is that it happens as soon as you're online for more than a minute. Which has been a like a few minutes for 3 or 4 times? So 5 reps in those few minutes a few times does in fact feel spammy. Go back outside to play with the other kids.

I am going to say the same shit here as I did in PM.

Don't you see what the fugg you are saying?

'WhAt'S tHe PoInT oF tHiS sYsTeM tHeN?!?!'

It's there so other members are able to give ratings to people. If you don't want to rep them back that's fine. But don't start crying that they -rep you when you -repped them in the first place.

Listen to Eagle and disable your notifications.

Now stop being an illiterate fugg.

I don't know why you're acting like a child. Oh wait maybe cuz you are. I don't remember crying about -rep either.

I did in fact read over the disabling notification line of Eagle, thanks for pointing that one out.

Calling the popularity system a way for members to get scammed is simply an insult to Omni and Xero doing hard work to prevent it by implement the b-rating for example

Bye.

I'm a green hungry girl? I acted cocky? You need to reread your replies first and get rid of that attitude. Also, sorry for not answering the way you want. I know why popularity exists but I guess it's too complicated for you to comprehend from the Help Docs.

Quote:What is the popularity system?

It is a method for privileged members to give their opinion about other users for the rest of HF to see.

Quote:What is the popularity system used for?

For the most part, it is just a metric for users to give their opinions on a member.
