Thread: Post Reporting for "Vouch Begging"

RIP Juice WRLD - August 16, 2020, 12:11 pm

"11. Vouch begging - asking OP (original poster) to supply a vouch copy if it isn't stated in the original post."

As it is a violation of the Marketplace Violations Rules List, rule #11, I suggest we implement a "Vouch Begging" report. I come across vouch begging often, and I've always just used "Other", but it'd be faster if you didn't have to type "Begging for a vouch copy", and could instead just use "Vouch Begging".

I don't know if I stand alone, and if I do, I apologize for the use of a few MB of this forum.

I would like to see this too. I think it's really rude when someone has said they're not offering vouch copies, or not said outright that they would, and then all the posts on the first page of the thread is just people begging for a free copy, even worse when they don't return with the review.

Report it for a marketplace violation and type "vouch begging"?

Blogger - August 16, 2020, 12:19 pm

I swear we already had that. Maybe they took it away? Would be nice to see it back though.

It might just be me being lazy, but a direct "vouch begging" feature would be cool (for me, at least).

Marketplace violation. It's not rocket science vouch begging is a marketplace violation, hence why it falls under the "Marketplace Violation" tab when reporting a post.

Yeah, this would be a Marketplace Violation report. Closing thread, thanks for eye-opening.

Under marketplace violation, it's not like it says

Quote:For a complete list of violations that fall under this, refer to this document.

and you get a link to full marketplace doc... ?
