so a bunch of these games are postponed do the bets just carry out until the game is played? or are the bytes returned to us?

I believe they're just carried out until they're played

Bets are probably going to stay valid since the games are going to be played.

I didn't end up hearing from anyone about my sportsbook error, exact same question too.

I'd say they're carried out man.

We will just wait for it until those games will be played :D

Just think that your bytes bet on it will be your investment. :)

My postponed bet finished 5 hours ago but I still haven't got my bytes for it. Must be some sort of glitch because it's never happened with any bet that's been played on time.
