Thread: Vulnerable Links

certifa - August 28, 2020, 6:50 am

Hey and welcome to my thread!

I'm holding to a lot of vulnerable links with some big sites in there, but I don't know what to do. I was planning to do something with them with a friend but it turned out to a flop.

So I'm here with a lot of vuln links that I can't do nothing with bc I don't have the tools for it. Is it an option to sell the links or the whole file? I don't know what to do with them and I don't know if there is a market for it.

I hope you guys can give me feedback about what to do.

Thanks!?

If you can find any vulnerability on big sites like Google, Microsoft, Apple, etc. then you sell Hall of Fame spots. So that the user can pay you and get inducted on their official site, merely selling links with an assumption that they are vulnerable won't work.

you are LOSER !!!!!1

you have just downloaded this list of vulnerable sites from another real sources on internet
i saw you are noob

you have list of vulnerable sites but you dont know how to use them LOL !!!!!!! learn social engineering learn KALI , html , python , java , mysql, and lots of things maybe you will have spent 1000 hours for hacking then use this listings

Thanks a lot and I know they're vurn. I'm not a seller so I don't know where I can go etc. I have big names in my list so I'll gonna take a look at the Hall of Fame!

I would start pentesting those sites and see if it leads back to a bug bounty platform or, if the site has /well-known/.security.txt
