my site is got-juice.com and will be up in less then 72 hours , why the fuck would i try to pose and fake a hack ? i just hacked a site that revolves around my name Imfao!!!!!!!!!!!!!! i taught juice this , so thats what it is , just furthering his knowledge , i wouldnt let him try to pass off a fake hack goto the site the logins were admin:admin and /admin is the admin panel..... so dont go assuming based on name , name is what we revolve around..... just look into the god damn shit , it was a site found on the first page of google after searching the word juice , and it happened to be exploitable by sql injection so dont hate on my fuckin homies hes n00b , but wouldnt falsify shit to lo0k ko0l..... as i helped with this i nkow it to be legit , and sorry for the back to back posts but i nkow this is not the case as you make it seem.....

[Juice] - March 26, 2009, 8:09 pm

SomeoneWithAPurpose - March 27, 2009, 7:25 am

Care if it's his site or not, nobody gives a fuck about your "awesome" hack.

And you've still posted in the wrong subforum.

DigiDeveloper - March 27, 2009, 7:33 am

If it were me, I wouldn't even have posted this shit on a forum, but kept it to myself. If someday, you decide to do something "extraordinary" and the investagations unit decides to dig up anything else and they end up here, it's only gonna add to your penalty.

Feels good to risk shit like that for 2 minutes of fame.

lacosanostra - March 27, 2009, 1:29 pm

Juice, I am a n00b. Just wanted to know how you did it? I tested cricket-books.com/admin/adm_login.php for SQL vunerabilities with Firefox's SQL inject me, and I got no injection positives.

DigiDeveloper - March 27, 2009, 1:40 pm

dont always look at the admin panel to exploit look all over.....

lacosanostra - March 27, 2009, 1:50 pm

ok, I'll search. Any hints?

DigiDeveloper - March 27, 2009, 1:52 pm
