I can sell for customers like a contract but i don't want the source. If it is safe and stay a bit "no-cracked" i want but if you are tired to work with me, you say before then i can say to my customers. I don't want the source but i have customer to sell.

does aimbot use kernel mouse movement or just mousemove?

Mouse clicks are simulated in the kernel but not mouse movements as it wasnt required for any of the anti cheats i originally planned to support.
