Do you have at least 1000 subscribers? That's a requirement now for monetization on youtube. Pick a niche that you actually have an interest in creating videos in. It really doesn't matter. There are hundreds of millions of viewers on youtube that will watch pretty much anything that's even remotely entertaining or interesting.

If your adsense is connected to youtube and you reached 4k watch hours + 1k subs you can start with a niche that you are interested in. (not gaming lol)

It's really important to stay consistent, I would suggest you upload a good video once a week.

Maybe look at the marketplace. :)
