Thread: Cannabis / Mushroom themed clothing line

RankBuilder - September 10, 2020, 5:43 pm

I am planning to start a clothing company here, I am thinking of a theme is mushroom and cannabis based designs.

What I can do:Market/Advertise - I have a lot of connections most of them are from famous bands here who can easily advertise the products.

Market/Advertise - We have friends who own a shop; vape shop, merch shop, this is where we can rent or get a free slot on their shop to sell our products.

Designs - We do have a little bit of knowledge how we can design a shirt, our plan is to release 2-4 designs per quarter.

Social Media - We can manage social medias for faster promotion

Market - We use 2 major ecommerce site here on our country to advertise and sell products.

What we are looking for:A person who can invest (money) on this kind of business, that is really interested. We are willing to talk with you personally.

If ever you have products like supplier of shirt or if you can print it on your end and import it here, we will do the selling.

We will do (on us) 20/80 (on you) on sales, but I am planning to focus on expanding more about this business.

I can send you samples of some famous clothing line here and how did they market it. We can get an idea to that one.

My friend already have an existing clothing line (not based on the theme I told above). But the problem is due to pandemic, he stop it to focus on paying bills/foods and shelter.

Just a question, did you consider using platforms like Teespring and such?

They print of demand, located in EU or US, don't charge you upfront and let you keep some commission per sale.

I'm not familiar with Teespring, but I'll check it out now. But I think my country (Philippines) is not supported or if ever the cost of shipping will be huge.

I already saw someone selling designs. If anyone willing to be my partner on this, we just need a little bit of investment to start this clothing line. I can also ask them to give us discounts for maybe 2-4 designs

Did you checkout tee-spring? They do everything you want for free for 0 upfront cost.
