Thread: Which Parent Are You Closer To And Why?

Blockonome - September 11, 2020, 3:32 am

Dear HF,

Title says it all, but I was just wondering which parent are you closer to and why?

For myself, it is my father as I feel like I can speak about anything with him. Whether it is ladies or hacking, he is always there to give his opinion.

And literally he sends me pictures of naked girls almost every day xD

Ps. My parents have been divorced since I was 2, so pretty normal life for me.

I can talk to both my parents about anything so I cant assess using this metric. Id say I care more about my mom.

My both parents are always with me, supportive, full of understanding. When I was younger they've been making decisions about me together so im equally close to my mother and father ^^

I'm far closer to my mother and don't even speak to my father. I don't know, she was always there for us as kids and now even as adults. Personally, I consider my mother to even be my friend.

My father ever since my parents got divorced when I was pretty young.

Vitello - September 11, 2020, 7:08 am

My mum. I rarely speak with my dad. Maybe 2-3 times a year.

My parents has been divorced since I was 4. My dad and I had a pretty good relationship until I was 14 ish years old, then he met his current wife. After that he wanted to spend more time with his new family, so we kinda drifted away from each other.

my mom idk hmm okay weird question

gore - September 11, 2020, 7:37 am

My mother easily. My father and I didn't get along until I was about 17 or so. They've been married about 30 years now, so it was weird growing up and loving one parent and hating the other.

But since this happened, do you not find it quite normal now, as in, not a negative thing?

My father I am close with. My mother is delusional and won't seek help. Parents are deciding to split but I'm happy for them. Maybe she'll get her shit straight and my father can find the peace he needs.

Oh wow despite your parents are divorced since you were 2 it's great to hear that you are still close to your father.

For me I am really close to my Mom but my Dad really doing well to be closed to me and to all my siblings but it seems most of us are attached with my Mom the most.

Lol I was about to say "what about your mom" xd

Nate - September 11, 2020, 11:13 pm

i'd say def more closer to my mom honestly, which is okay. I like it :)

Hilfiger - September 11, 2020, 11:19 pm

My dad for sure. My real mom was a crack head ass hoe. She isn't shit.
