Thread: Fiverr account - 385 Sales - 269 + REP 5 Star profile - Psychology/spiritual guidance

Verdande - September 15, 2020, 1:23 am

So I am not focusing on Fiverr although it is a reliable income source, with the right exposure.

I am likely to sell it ASAP.

Stats:

Ratings:

This is mainly smooth sailing regarding sales of the business I provide if you are into psychology, and want to offer emotional support for those in need of it. Total income from this exceeds 50k USD since 2015 until a few months back when I moved platform, and I mostly got wire-transfers from returning customers.

I spent a few years building this reputable profile, and the income is purely based on time, which I do not have much of for this specifically as I moved my business to my Company Llc.

LMK if this sounds interesting, I would like for the buyer to continue down the road I have been taking it, and I would also offer mentoring if needed to run it all if needed. PM me with your offers and potential ambitions.

PS. For people concerned about this being recovered:

I never put personal info (first+last name) OR Phone-number, which is now required by people who sign-up for an account, this was not required back then, and will serve as a perfect way of insuring the account will forever be yours.

Offers of 500 USD+ only will be considered, that is where all offers stand ATM.

Regards,

Escobar

I have kept it to 1 thread, cross-posting was due to discrepancies with the other post and it was in a different section all together, mainly first and foremost appraisals. That has been taken care of.

Please close the other thread to make sure there is no confusion.

Edit: Thanks :)

I would appreciate if the people who are PMing me with offers also posted here, to keep it active. I appreciate all interest, please post here then PM/convo me.

Still for sale, the buyers are returning for the method that is basically auto-pilot. I do want to sell this before they all return and I would hate to see profits go to waste.
