Have you never felt sad or bad for actions? I mean, sometimes I feel bad for them, they seem so desperate.. then I see all the money and remember the life is a bitch. What do you think?

Yea I'm partnered with a real girl so I often get to see the conversations

It's awful man, so many horny weirdos and simps.

These guys are willing to do anything for 1 nude pic, literally ANYTHING

Yes of course they are disgusting but I was talking about these guys who are searching for love and pay us.

U never felt sad for it?

I mean guilty.

Yes, I feel bad. And doing it for only 5 hours, it's taken a toll on my mind tbh. Maybe it's the way I am doing it (engaging in long convos with the guys) that's exacerbating the mind torture unnecessarily.

Not at all . I don't even talk to anyone , but if i would do long convos , then probably i felt bad. Pretending to be a girl that's not something i want to do everyday

I spend between 10 and 15 hours daily on snapchat answering people, they need to have answers before buying.

I feel bad for the ones that get scammed huge by the nigerians. They actually send the victim a picture of themselves making fun of them.

google 419 scammers photos

SourceCode101 - September 17, 2020, 6:55 pm

You dont scam them cause they are horny, you scam them cause they feel "ALONE"

If I ever felt bad?

Hmm , it was one time which I took a huge payment from a guy

But after I withdraw the fugging money I felt so fugging good so the answer in your question, no I don't felt bad, cause I always deliver what they paid for is a win to win for both sides

expect the one time I wrote above

Yeah when you touch the money it's different but sometimes I'm sad for them.

Then u tell me u never did scam meetup?

I was talking about scam meetup, I had one guy paid me for his first time was so sad.

Mhh no. There are so many family fathers with childs.

I dont feel bad for them. But i dont scam so they all receive what they want.

They are lucky afterwards haha
