Money that is acquired easily without effort tends to get used for silly purposes. Putting that aside, I would probably use the money to start an online business of sorts so I can earn more with the money instead of buying a product that gets used up or can malfunction or stop working in the near future.

Agreed. It's a lot easier to make more money when you have an investment to put in. I would definitely invest it in an online business venture.

Truth - September 19, 2020, 2:02 am probably let it sit in my bank until a good opp comes. $1k isn't nothing tho, think I got that in tickets in the last few months.

WebcamRiches_com - September 19, 2020, 2:22 am

I'd invest the $1000 to promote my cam models. Turn it into $10k within the month.

Mr. Robot - September 19, 2020, 2:23 am

It would simply go towards my game.

Right now you mean? I'll use it to renew my obfuscator's license

SIM-3587630 - September 19, 2020, 2:35 am

Probably save them honestly. You never know with this covid stuff if another lockdown is coming, or something like that

Luffy_- - September 19, 2020, 2:37 am

Due to the economic crisis here in lebanon 1000 $ would prob get me a car :)

Regulus - September 19, 2020, 2:41 am

Would spend every single dollar towards my mom.

Buying her something nice, take her out for dinner etc.

That's the least I could do after all she's done for me <3

Stevensan - September 19, 2020, 2:43 am

I would buy the Playstation 5. Normally I would wait until it gets cheaper. Then I then I would buy it second hand for like $200.

real plug - September 19, 2020, 2:43 am will buy my daughter a educative tablet to keep her busy, buy mum a surprise new gift and invest the rest on cryptomining to get more $$$.

Xerotic - September 19, 2020, 2:48 am

Oral surgery for wisdom teeth removal. Cost is $800 for that so the other $200 would just go towards various other bills.

oRequiem - September 19, 2020, 2:55 am

I'd put it towards my new PC I'm planning to build, my parts are 3 - 5 years outdated.

Purvert - September 19, 2020, 3:22 am

Buy a computer, some games. Gamble it.

Goku - September 19, 2020, 3:25 am

Use it to get my drivings license :P

I know thousands other things I need to buy but I think that this is a good step forwards

Shaggy - September 19, 2020, 3:26 am

I would use that money to find your house and ask you for more

Malthemar - September 19, 2020, 5:44 am

I'm interested in Stocks, and would probably use it to learn how to invest properly.

Bear - September 19, 2020, 5:45 am

Put it into options, compound at a rate where 10 iterations of good days would lead to $x,xxx,xxx.

Stork - September 19, 2020, 5:47 am

put it on my credit card lol

Elijah - September 19, 2020, 6:08 am

I would buy a new laptop with it,

Its hard to work with 5 year old laptop, its slow as hell.

Sugawara - September 19, 2020, 6:09 am

Invest the money to somewhere which can multiply the amounts. Not gamble though.

Put it into an ETF and just keep it for a rainy day. Savings should be kept somewhere and just be forgotten about. That way, you don't touch it.

Keeping it in cash is way too liquid and you'll be too tempted to use it.

No insurance, perhaps. When I had only one removed two years ago it cost $200. $50 for the inspection and $150 for the extraction. I did that one while I was awake so it was a quick procedure.

This one, they want to put me under and extract the remaining two teeth.

Well, where I'm from dental insurance doesn't exist. Well it does exist but few people use it since it's cheap to get a surgery and inspection is usually free. I guess it's America.

I was posting repair videos for one of my two vehicles many years ago.

I was also posting programming related videos (including a rapid tutorial for the language of C++; that was hindered by life and is on my ever-growing to-do list).

I was also posting gameplay of a few videos games (Boom Beach and Prey).

As of late: I have been uploading my work videos (which take a considerable amount of time to edit and post).

It's usually 6-10 hours per 150 videos to be batch converted and then an additional 48+ hours to upload them to YouTube and an additional 2 hours to edit the meta-data.

I already spoke to one person. It's $10,000 per week and the average ad views is around 5 million.

My idea was making like gaming videos and funny videos + cartoons, I have all sorts of ideas and scripts

but I just need to figure out how I'm going to do it, especially the cartoons as I have zero knowledge in that field

I don't feel as if we should spam this thread with our personal conversation, but I'd love to hear your ideas! I might be able to help you with part of what you are trying to do.

I am by far no sketch artist and cannot draw anything (even digitally!), but software tools I have some experience with (for various platforms).

If you'd like to: Please feel free to PM me. :)

Invest it into Fisker.

Rolex Mindset - May 4, 2023, 9:06 am

I would simply invest it into an index fund.
