Papa Don has been extremely helpful in helping me choose a money making method based on my particular preferences and interests.

After an initial consultation, we have decided on a money making method that works for me, and he is holding my hand getting me set up step by step.

I HIGHLY recommend this mentorship - he is patient, and ready to help you whenever you need.

BIG vouch for my man, Papa Don.

My review for this:

I received the first official copy of the membership/mentoring to this group, and so far I've been blown away with my experience so far, Dorrance has been extremely patient with me and given continual support even before our Voice chat session, made him wait a while due to unforeseen business I had to finish up and he had no problem waiting, I learned a lot of things I never really knew would work in the field of e-whoring and am still in the process of setting it up but I'm satisfied so far with the quality of what's being offered, In the 7+ years of me being here at HF and limiting my group interactions, I believe this is worth every penny if you're able to afford it without it being a problem with you not seeing immediate returns. Cheers from a Don to a Don. #LaFamilia

P.S. I will continue to update my experience so feel free to come back whenever and check in.

It's being nearly 2 weeks since I started this money making journey with Don. The full mentorship entry is what I purchased and must say I am looking forward for the upcoming weeks and months.

Firstly Don got me to go over 5 different ways of making money, pick out the one that suited me most and also time wise. I decided to pick the project idea for the music industry. I basically knew nothing about it so had to start from scratch and was not sure at first but gave it a go, I am glad I did. This takes less time than most of the other methods and that was what I was looking for because I work full time offline.

In the last 2 weeks Don has gone through with me step by step of what to do and has answered all my many, many questions until I understood each one. The process I really enjoy and have 2 albums done and one is already live and the other within a day or two.

I won't go through how this is done but with Don he has all the resources and contacts so the hard part is done all I did was follow his instructions and when I don't understand something I just ask him and he always answers my questions.

My final point of this review is if your looking for someone who knows many ways of making money, has the contacts and resources of where to get what you need and lots of patience Don is the guy to look after you as he is doing with me. I am really glad I found this opportunity. Cheers Don.

Not sure if its just me but everytime I see Mastermind people's username, I feel like they're banned and for some weird reason, I check if they really have been banned or not.

However, you got decent userbar to be honest. You got some bunch on HQ members on your group. Good luck selling those spots.

I don't brown nose anybody, but Dorrance is an OG. I have had the pleasure of knowing Don for a while and we have talked about many hustles and schemes. This dude is always looking for different ways to skim off the top or otherwise make a buck on every transactions. He is also a great resource for vetting potential ideas...you know he won't steal yours cause he's too busy with his others, but he will give you solid advice on how to maximize profits.

</brownnose>

Good luck with the group and the sales.

This looks promising as far as returns on money spent, but would you be able to go further into detail about what techniques i could pick up day one let's say? How soon after joining would you think it would take someone to make their investment back with your knowledge?

You can learn a lot of skills in the first day, we have already 2-3 new members. For investment wise the time & effort you put in, is what you see in return. Most things payout in Month basis unless your doing quick flip things which we have those as well.

If I purchase this, will someone 1-on-1 show me things in like a voice chat?

Edit; show me things like ewhoring and money making like how long might it take to get my investment back

I will show you 1 on 1 including voice chats what to do step by step.

You can make your investment back based on your initiative with following the methods and time devotion. Could happen in a 2-3 weeks maybe a month if your like me.

Hi,

I was wondering if you include methods to earn money without having to invest money aside from your time.

I am not into any of these:

CPA

E-Whoring

Search Engine Optimization

Botting

Cars

I'm looking for something like loopholes or an exploit to make money with.

Looking forward to hearing from you.

I can't believe the $650 package isn't sold out already.

Some members charge $500 - $2000 for "mentorship" without adding the buyer to any group or giving you any award.

This seems an amazing deal and I personally can tell that the group is high quality for real. Good luck with the sales my man and I hope to see some familiar faces in our group soon!
