Amount: $400

User sold me a MARTINGALE SCRIPT FOR $400, yes, you read that right, this method is literally a martingale script.

I believe he titled it this way to entice people in, because I very well know, that nobody wants to buy a martingale script, especially for such an obscene price.

I questioned him, as the title clearly states this involves casino bonuses, and this was his response:

So it turns out, you need to wager $10,000 to even get these bonuses, and even then, these bonuses aren't going to be making you any money!

Even so, I paid for this, I thought I'd at least test his script out, even though if it truly did work, it would take a very long time to make back the $400 I paid for this shit in the first place.

Within around 4 hours the script failed and I lost the majority of my banroll>

I explained this to him and we came to an agreement:

I let it run throughout the night while I slept, and sure enough, it crashed.

Messaged him proof, and rather than refund me, he responded with:

I was going to let him do this, so I could at least make some of my money back before I opened this, but it's been 5 hours since this was promised and I supplied him the affiliate link and I've yet to have anyone register under my link, he also no longer responds to me.

I've created a CA regarding this user, as I personally believe him to be a multi, using different accounts to falsify sales.

I keep my right to refund you if I want or not (thats why there are disputes in the site)

The only thing you can do in order to get your money is what I have told you already, nothing else.

Closing a valid DD before you've completed your part of the deal is a scam.

Scamming rat.
