Thread: Annoying fake fb profiles

Mr. Tycoon - September 26, 2020, 1:16 pm

I keep getting these fake ewhoring fb accounts adding me. Any idea how to stop them?

PokeBong - September 26, 2020, 3:25 pm

Just ignore and move on. It's the best option.

I don't get too many invites from random people. It mostly depends on how active I am in groups, but it's not too bad.

Ignore them. They aren't worth the effort.

They're not going to stop, so you might as well move on. They're annoying, but not the end of the world. Just don't accept any, or engage with them.

two can play that game, add them and time waste :)

Mr. Tycoon - September 27, 2020, 4:38 am

It's more that every day I get new requests and it's so annoying.

You can't do anything about it brother...just let them be hahaha

Deleting them will just take some of your time.

Ever since I set on the privacy of having only "friends of friends" being able to add you, I never got an ewhore adding me again.

Vibe - September 27, 2020, 6:39 am

You could report them and maybe whoever's bot is having them add you we'll find a new method to add people

I think Facebook lets you block and report fake pages like that.

Geass - September 27, 2020, 10:27 am

1. Report them if you so annoyed.
2. Ignore them.
3. Make a private account :P

Maybe it's some botting picking autopilot accounts and found yours in some comment you did in a group.

Mr. Tycoon - September 27, 2020, 11:03 am

It's the "go to my profile to see my nudes <insert cam girl link" ???

TheMTGuy - September 27, 2020, 11:57 am

Had this problem as well, until I found out that you have the "friends of friends" option.

Yeah i get 1-2 a week. Been trying to find a way to get rid of them but its quite hard, i usually just decline them as i get them. Its all i can really do to be honest. I have seen a decrease in the amount of requests im getting though, which is good.

Zencypher - October 4, 2020, 3:37 pm

Honestly i get a few of those, best thing you can do is refuse the friend request and move on.

Klonopin - October 4, 2020, 3:38 pm

Make your facebook so no one can search for it. in the privacy settings

Nyx - October 4, 2020, 3:39 pm

I didn't even know facebook was still active.

I haven't checked mine in years lmao.

Free Kurdistan - October 4, 2020, 4:26 pm

Just let them come as a breeze on your day. This happens to me as well; on FB, IG, hell even Snapchat.

Doom - October 4, 2020, 6:10 pm

Just ignore them. Otherwise you'll find yourself having to block multiple accounts weekly and it just isn't worth the hassle.

SIM-353284 - October 4, 2020, 6:11 pm

let me know if you can bot

Mr. Atlas - October 6, 2020, 6:24 pm

if you tried to have 1 or 2 as friends you will be spamming another competitor's account it's normal they think you are stupid

I'm sorry for you my friend.

you are doomed to receive pictures of boobs in your private message for the rest of your days

ITheSlayer - February 15, 2021, 8:25 am

Just ignore , some fake profiles tried to blackmail me on fb

ghostboy - February 18, 2021, 1:35 pm

Ppl will make fake profile to scam older relatives or people that are friends with the impersonator
