User is scamming people using a public martingale method, where the website does not let you "AutoPilot" I have multiple conversations with him about this, and he says to just keep restarting it, well that's not autopilot is it?

so hes false advertising and scamming multiple people on the forums for thousands of dollars. Check deal disputes and see how many open disputes the user has, he also is using a multi which should be a TOS on the forums and terms for a ban.

Another one. Not surprising. He'll reply that "you broke his TOS".

Tomek Radomski - September 27, 2020, 4:32 pm

I got some money to pick, I can't leave.

Once you send me the $100 you owe me and once the other users sends me my owed $400 I can leave

Just cause you told them some autobet settings "set 19.8x multiplier and multiply on loss by Y, once you wager 10,000$ you'll win 100-200$ prizes".

That was your method.

You're scammer, liar and multi-account. You don't deserve only a ban, I hope someone to dox you anytime soon ?

I'll expose your other multis don't worry about it, i'm just waiting your next thread from your multis.

After reading this from one of your "customers"

"Seller trying to threaten me into doing sh*t that isn't part of our deal/contract. Check my dispute for more detailed info. Stay away from this clown at all cost."

Then for sure, not going to do any business with you! Sorry for your loss OP.
