Thread: What is the future of Bitcoin?

ethelooking - September 27, 2020, 11:29 pm

Will it become a mainstream currency, or will its popularity wane, and why?

mike.vronsky - September 28, 2020, 8:40 am

According To some source in future around 2040 bitcoin will reach to 1 Million dollar but we know no one knows because it is unpredictable

yes and no

it will be used by banks and big money for transactions and holding assets (kinda the use case of a coin we shall not name)

you will still by your cup of coffee with fiat although this is a generalisation of crypto because btc is outdated and will be replaced - but the idea remains the same.

Bitcoin is a store of value and it's here to stay. I hope people will understand the level of safety and privacy and withdraw their money from banks and deposit in BTC.

It's a great number. Can't imagine

Free Kurdistan - September 28, 2020, 3:31 pm

I think it's here for a good long while as it will continue its safety and be used as a genuine depot.

#Currency

It's not a currency because it's nowhere near to be stable, normal currencies are pretty stable.

#Investment

It's not an investment because bitcoins to not have any value, 1 bitcoin is 0 dollars worth. People are hyping it up and then the market goes up or down depending on what people think Bitcoin will reach 100k usd at the end of the year!!!

If you are asking Will the bitcoin continue to rise in value over the coming years?

Yes it will. Just take a look at bitcoin history.

Whenever there is halving every 4years its reaching new ATH after few years.

Just look at 2010 & and look it now 2020.

Halving will keep on coming every 4 years till 2140.

Bitcoin will stay No 1

Pray for the best, prepare for the worst, and expect the unexpected. Simple as that. Nobody knows what's going to happen. 2020 proved it.

To be honest, I really perceive the price of bitcoin increasing in the future years due to a number of societal issues and advances as well as current problems regarding the spread of contagions and disease via paper money; I just genuinely feel like Bitcoin will grow in popularity and be a lot more mainstream, and due to such there will be a lot more money in it.

this is only true in south america where people are undergoing hardships and they have to turn to btc as a currency. in the western first world people are not only sheep but are in thick bubbles, they will not by btc but whatever coin is heavily marketed online just like cashapp for example, it will seem hip and cool to make payments with "cyber money" to the laimen and people will flock in and slowly more and more will understand crypto properly.

Hope it too guy. Over 100 years of growth can make a single currency ubiquitous worldwide

It's already mainstream and popular..

Noobs think Bitcoin is all there is to crypto..

It's a digital store of value that is here to stay
