I do not recommend to exchange with this guy. Got my bank account frozen as also Elliot and T O P

A brief summary: Banks claims that the transactions that he did were fraudulents and worst thing it's that it has literally no tracks of it.

If you ask me it has nothing to do with ewhoring, I believe he's a scammer. I've been ewhoring for a while and never got any problems with a single transaction of Zelle.

I'm here just to leave my two cents and warn other users.

If you ask me
Who is asking you btw...

I believe he's a scammer

I also believe, u r a scammer, bcz the account u gave me, got locked, and all the balance comes to you, after 7days of closure of the account, but u did not refunded me single penny, with the last transaction.

I'm here to leave 2 cents....

Because u r man of 2 cents only.... some kid

I've been ewhoring for a while...

A while....

I have been doing zelle more than 2 year... so sit back kido

Josh thanks for warning

Dude not many people use burner accounts, Exchanger trust that funds won't get accounts locked. Happened to me with venmo I lost 1400$ and was happy I didn't get banned, but I lost the $ which it is what it is, but if its something that can get accounts locked than you know what you're doing is extremely blackhat

Speaking about burner accounts were not allowed, openly, so i did not mentioned, else, i tell everyone if they have burner accounts then we can proceed, else their wish.

Many people are using burner accounts they get account close, and many are using, their personal accounts, and they don't. So, it depends & I am here looking for people with burner accounts, so that no harm is done to there personal accounts.

You sound ridiculous.

You admitted in your own thread that exchanging with you is "risky" (meaning that you will file chargebacks and freeze accounts), and your excuse for doing this is that exchangers have "burner accounts" (which many do not) so it is fine. The fact that you assume this is allowed or ethical is absolutely astonishing.

Even if this scam was allowed and you find exchangers willing to get chargebacked and scammed for $1000s, you still do not tell them you are going to file a refund. You go about a normal exchange and have them figure out when their accounts become frozen.

All of the mentioned users above can attest to my claims. You are obviously a scammer and your excuses are laughable.

First of all, I am not owner of those zelle account, from which transactions is made, this I have told u in ur chats, u can check. I just work as broker, and charge my commission, (take 95% from u and give 90% or take 90% from some one else and give 85%) simply my motive is to make 5% commission.

If u blame, that I make charge backs on those accounts, that is not possible, bcz I am not in USA, if I was in states, I did not need any exchanger, wud have done on my own. So, kindly do not blame me.

Yes, I admit payments are risky, because I am not owner of those accounts, So, I aware people at first, that these are not my accounts. There could be consiquences (for same reason, edited the title of thread & added for burner accounts)

I am also happy doing exchanges with 1 or 2 regular people who have burner accounts, and I have them (found on HF) but when these 2 are not available I try to find new exchanger who are ready for this work.

And if I am not doing, what u r doing, means i am scammer....??

So you're telling us that u're a middleman for people that WE DONT KNOW trying to exchange in this forum? Damn if anybody exchanges with u after reading that I would be surprised.

Could you also quote or @ the people that you said you trade in this forum with them using burner accounts?

Also do you know the Zelle payments cannot be charged back? The only way of doing that or anything else it's with fraudulents/illegal payments.

Just stop man u're embarrassing urself at this point.

Who the FUCK are u ? a leader or boss ? Why should i answer all ur question u little rat. Just go waste ur time some where else. Its been more than 3 hours, continously replying shit on my thread.

Yes, I am working as middleman. U got problem, stay away ! Idiot fellow, just no know Oh sorry u did one 500 zelle :P :P great job, more than this, I paid fees for my transactions.

I do not have all time to answer ur stupid allegations, just go n find some one else.
