I don't think you know a MITM is, OP is asking how he can see his saved passwords.

I don't think he means the registered wifi passwords in his phone, but instead passwords entered by other clients trying to connect to his phone's wifi hotspot

I mean what Yac1ne wrote, I know that there is good attack method - evil twin attack, but it needs wifi adapter with support monitor mode, so, is there any method to find passwords which is entered by clients on my mobile hotspot?

Not too sure on the mobile side but if you get an Alfa device you should be able to use that to reach out
