Thread: Demands I go first, has 0 b-ratings?

kurosaki - October 6, 2020, 6:33 am

So Basically this guy offers me an insane overpay for my csgo knife, then @Hitler out right demands that I go first then immedaiteley ghosts me?

And is this normal to have 752 popularity but 0 b-ratings??

DWC with this guy

Always use a middleman when dealing in large quantities - also understand that there is never a 100% safe trade when dealing online.

Furthermore the user clearly has never had any marketplace history here on the site, so I wouldn't trust it anyhow.

Tro yeh - October 6, 2020, 6:38 am

What did he say when u requested to use middleman?

Don't do the deal without middleman, a genuine buyer or seller will never deny for middleman until you are paying.

Especially when u are dealing with virtual items.

Anyone who is entirely trustworthy will go with the middleman without hesitation.

Correct, and on a forum like this where middleman service is so cheap and easy to get and sometimes free too.

A genuine dealer have no reason to deny or ghost req like these.

Popularity is not hard to get. Sometimes members lost interest in HF and if they have a good account often they do "the last stand" and scam someone. With 600$ he can create a new hf account and have at least 500$ in his pocket. I do not say here is that case, but if he blocked you ...

You have the product. If someone wants to buy it he will pay first or use mm. Usually, if the offer is too good, then its not real.

Be smart, stay safe.

Good thinking right there. If he resurfaces, then use Zexi or Zero to mm for you. That 2-3% will save you hundreds.

This, this, and this.

Always use a trusted onsite middleman when dealing with anyone, especially when that someone wants you to go first.

There are multiple to choose from on HF.

Free Kurdistan - October 6, 2020, 10:30 am

Hell to the nah. Popularity ain't shit, remember that - he has absolutely no B-Rating and still wants you to go first. Middleman or no deal is my suggestion.

Mark Ronson - October 6, 2020, 10:42 am

The good ol' scammers always ghost or block when you mention a middleman :D

But we have to remember that middlemen are no institution, they're human too, and middlemen have sometimes scammed but I'd say chances are waaaay less if you are using one compared to none. A trusted MM on here wouldn't ruin his acc for a few hundreds

BTW the B rating thing is relatively new on the forum. I saw some very trusted members that had like 5 b ratings or something and I was asking myself why? Then I learned that it only got introduced in 2018 or something, so old members that were active before that didn't retain any of it

Hitler - October 6, 2020, 1:43 pm

I'm a scammer and DWC because I work 60 hour weeks and haven't had the time to reply to you yet?

Let it be known that this was 22 hours ago I messaged him. I legit just got in the house from work and was planning on PM'ing back until I saw @Charger had added me to the thread. Thanks for that.

Not interested now, think what you want. Cheers, this can be /closed.

PS; I stated that I didn't know what the price was on CSGOEmpire, and I looked it up and it was trading for $600 to 560 on Steam so that's what I offered.

Don't know how that's a "insane overpay" when I was offering what I saw it was going for face value and nothing more.

Popularity has absolutely nothing to do with the marketplace. If you think it does, try actually thinking.

Cool, you got your first b-rating from an empty account.

What i'm saying is, Where do you get all this need for me to go first when you have 0 ratings.

I'll check back in a week to see your dispute.
