Thread: Why do many people find Diablo III fun?

ethelooking - October 6, 2020, 8:05 pm

Diablo 3 is like a bullet hell action-RPG mixed with a sophisticated slot machine.

The character building system combined with the co-op makes it so that you can invent creative builds that create synergies with your buddies that wouldn't be immediately apparent otherwise.

Did you have a good time with Diablo III ?

I've never really gotten into diablo purely because whenever I've ever watched videos about the game it looks too confusing for me.

D3 was a big dissappointment for me, after playing d2 for so many years.

I am really looking forward to d4, I'm sure Blizzard has listened to us

I play it in spurts.

I'll get an itch to play it, play the hell out of it for a couple weeks, then uninstall it.

It's just OG and much fun. I grinded it for some months then stopped, but I know for a fact that Diablo IV is gonna be a great banger as well.

I had and still have lots of fun with Diablo III. Even if I'm not playing with friends or online, I still find myself captivated by the riveting turn of the century gameplay.

HackingGames247 - October 12, 2020, 8:38 am

I dont particularly like that game to be honest.

If I learned how to play it would obviously be the game it is, but with those type of games, also like Path of Exile, I've had difficulties with. They're more advanced or something than most games.

Chevy - October 12, 2020, 9:38 am

It's really not even that complex to be honest. Soooo, I dont know what to tell you my man.

Vibe - October 12, 2020, 9:41 am

Kinda sad I never really played number 3 I had so much fun on the previous ones. Is it still an active online game?

ITlorty - October 12, 2020, 11:37 pm

I just enjoy modding/developing for it

Blockonome - October 14, 2020, 7:19 am

I did like it, but due to having a shitty computer, I could not fully enjoy it, I should maybe try again now! :D

2077 - October 15, 2020, 2:50 pm

Played for a few 100 hours, botted for another few 100 hours, then stopped playing the game and started playing Path of Exile more

Lyralei - October 15, 2020, 9:15 pm

I was exposed to hack and slash games since I was young, so it's impossible to not enjoy it, actually, most of my enjoyment came from the gear that dropped.
